Mention was made when bids were taken.

Philadelphia has the honor of being the only American city represented by a regularly appointed delegate from a live organization at the recent International Congress of Architects in Brussels. Albert Kelsey, of the firm of Kennedy, Hays & Kelsey, of this city, was present as the representative of the T-Square Club, and made an address in French on the third day of the session. He pointed out that while the United States has within its bounds many incomparable copies of old world architectural masterpieces, the architects of the country are looking forward to something that will be more decidedly American. The only other Americans present at the congress, in addition to Mr. Kelsey, were George Potter, representing the United States Supervising Architect, and James Kelley, of Boston.

Architect W. L. Price, 731 Walnut street, is preparing plans and final specifications for a residence that will be built at Merion, Pa., for Mr. H. H. Hosinbauch, of this city. This residence will be built of local stone, with a slate roof. It will have a frontage of about 60 feet and a depth of 81 feet. It will be four stories high, with a basement. All the latest improvements and modern conveniences, including hot water heating, electric wiring, call bells, annunciators, combination gas and electric fixtures, speaking tubes, tile and mosaic work, mantels, wardrobes, grille work, plumbing, bath room fixtures, interior decorating, etc., will be introduced. The proposed cost of this residence, including all sub-contracts, will not exceed $12,000. Mention will be noted when plans are finished and when bids are taken.

The Civil Service Commissioners are receiving the reports of the examinations held September 10 for the selection of a supervising architect for the Treasury Department. These examinations were held in Washington, New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and San Francisco. There were only four architects who appeared in Washington, D. C., for examination. Their names are James K. Taylor, Lenn Brown, W. B. Hornblower and Mr. Van Nerter. It was expected that there would be a large number of architects who would present themselves for examination. The commissioners were surprised that there were but four. In the other cities named there were a large number who appeared for examination. It will take a month or six weeks it is thought to arrange and mark them. When that is completed those attaining the highest rates will be certified to and sent to the Secretary of the Treasury, and from them he will make his selection.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

General Contractor M. P. Wells & Co., Thirteenth and Walnut streets, are bidding on a store and dwelling to be built on Atlantic avenue for Mr. Thomas Irwin of Atlantic City, N. J., from plans prepared by Architect Shumway, of that city. Cost $15,000.

R. L. Perot, Bourse Building, who prepared the plans for the addition to Taylor Bros.' factory at 253 Mill street, Germantown, announces that the owners of the same are taking the estimate on the work and are about to let separate contracts—will measure 25 x 100 feet, two stories, brick and iron construction.

Architect Frank R. Watson, of 1203 Chestnut street, has awarded the contract for the Church of St. Edward the Confessor, at Eighth and York streets, to James Doyle, 878 North Forty-sixth street, West Philadelphia. The building will be brick and iron, one-story, with corrugated iron roofing. Mention was made while figures were being taken.

Architect Charles Bolton, 1510 Chestnut street, has awarded the contract for a church building at Osceola Mills, Pa., to Contractor B. Walker, of that place, at a cost of $10,000. This will measure 50 x 80 feet, having steam heating, electric lighting fixtures, slate roofing, plumbing, plastering, interior hard wood finish, seating, hardware and decorating.

MacCollin & East, architects, 1001 Chestnut street, have on boards of contractors the plans for an office and apartment building for Geo. M. Wagner, at 201 South Twelfth street. The structure will be four stories high, of mottled brick and terra-cotta work, with loggia in the top floor. Interior will be fitted with elevator, electric work, and every modern comfort and convenience, steam heat, etc. Estimates are being made.

Architect Collins & Autenrieth, 410 Chestnut street, have awarded the contract for an additional story to the chemical factory of John Wyeth & Co., at Eleventh street and Washington avenue, to builder A. Whitehead, 219 South Sixteenth street. The addition will be the entire length of the old building, which is 60 x 100 feet; built of brick and iron frame, with all conveniences for facilitating work in their line of business. Cost not given.

Architect R. W. Boyle, 1203 Chestnut street, has taken bids and awarded the contract for a hall building at Kensington and Adams streets, for the T. A. B. Society, of the Roman Catholic Church of the Visitation, to Edward Molley & Son, 2316 East Lehigh avenue. This structure will be built of brick with stone trimmings. It will be four stories high, with a basement. When completed it will measure 60 x 70 feet. All the latest improvements and modern conveniences will be introduced. The cost of this building will not exceed $15,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Owner Robert H. Parker will commence work at once to build ten two-story mottled brick front dwellings, each 16 x 54 feet, on the southwest side of Sixtieth street, west of Woodland avenue.

Work will be started at once on the erection of a two-story brick storage-house, 100 x 25 feet, at 247 and 249 Mill street, in the 23d ward, for Taylor Bros. Contractor William Fleming will do the work.

General Contractor William Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, is making extensive repairs to outside buildings, including water closets at the St. Joseph's Academy, Seventeenth and Stiles streets. Private plans.

A one-story structure, 19.6 by 29.6 feet, is to be built in the yard of the parochial School of the Annunciation, on the south side of Dickinson street, east of Tenth. Contractor Daniel J. Harkins will do the work.

Messrs. Loeb & Schoenfeld, of Switzerland, contemplate enlarging their present lace factory in Camden, N. J. The new building will be built of brick and iron, with a slag roof. It will be three stories high, and when completed they expect to import new machinery from an European port.

Ground was broken recently by Contractor D. C. Schuler in the Thirty-third ward for the erection of thirty-two-story brick and stone front dwellings for J. Caskey. Fifteen of the houses will be built on Mutter street, between Somerset and Cambria streets, and the remainder on Mascher street, between the same thoroughfares.

On the north side of Indiana avenue, between Percy and Ninth streets, Owner and Builder John Loughran intends to erect seven three-story brown stone front dwellings each 14.10 x 49 feet. He is going to build a three-story brown stone front store and dwelling, 16 x 56 feet, at the northwest corner of Ninth and Indiana avenue.

The Etherington Company, electrical contractors and dealers in supplies, have removed their plant to larger and more commodious quarters, having leased the new store building on Seventeenth street above Chestnut, where, with increased facilities, they will be prepared to fill all orders for construction and engineering work and supplies.

Rumor has it that the Oak Lane Country Club will start work in a day or so on the erection of its new club house on the county line near Oak Lane Station. The proposed structure will be three stories high, of local stone, and it will be constructed after the colonial style of architecture. The work, it is understood, will cost about $8000. Previously noted in full.

The Old York Road Country Club's new club-house will be put up at the southwest corner of Verbina avenue and County line. The work was begun to-day by Contractor F. R. Hill, who took out a permit. The club-house will be a handsome three-story stone structure of colonial style, and it will measure 49 x 32 feet. This work was previously mentioned.

An ordinance is under preparation by Select Councilman Fourier, of the Twenty-eighth ward, authorizing the city officials to purchase a tract of ground of fifty-nine acres in the Thirty-third ward for the location of the Municipal Hospital. The price is $150,000, or it may be secured by the city at a ground rent of 3.9-10 per cent., which would be $5,850 a year, until sufficient money is available to purchase it outright.

Owner Alexander Cowan is going to put up two two-story brick stores and dwellings, each 16 x 46 feet, and twenty-four two-story brick dwellings, each 15.2 x 43 feet, in the 36th ward. One of the stores and dwellings will be built at the southwest corner of Twenty-ninth and Reed streets, and the other will go up at the southeast corner of Thirtieth and Reed streets. The houses will be built on the south side of Reed street, between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets.

Pemberton & Co., real estate operators and builders, will commence work at once on the erection of twenty-eight two-story dwelling houses, in pairs, on the west side of Fifty-ninth street, extending from Girard avenue to Thompson street and from Thompson street to Master street, in the Thirty-fourth ward. The houses will have porch fronts and side yards, with wrought-iron gates. They will each contain eight rooms, with reception hall and English square stairway. The fronts will be of an attractive design.

Director of Public Works Thompson and Chief Webster of the Bureau of Surveys has had a conference relative to completing the contract with Contractor McNichol for the widening of Delaware avenue, between Vine and South streets. The contract for this work was awarded to Mr. McNichol two weeks ago, and it is expected that the same will be executed in a few days, so as to enable the work to proceed. The contractor states that he expects to commence operations in the early part of next week, and will push operations forward as rapidly as possible.

Work will begin soon on the new steel ocean pier at the foot of Virginia avenue, Atlantic City, N. J. Plans will be agreed upon soon and the incorporation papers perfected and work will begin so the structure may be ready for business by February, 1898. A large casino and sun parlor will be located in the second story over the wide entrance. A mammoth dancing pavilion will be built over the breakers and other attractions provided, possibly a cafe. The pier will be 100 to 150 feet wide and extend 2,000 feet or more into the sea. James H. Windrim, architect, will supervise the work of construction and make the plans.

The Board of Surveyors have decided to widen Lansdowne avenue, from Lancaster avenue to Cobb's creek, to a width of seventy feet. The matter came up as a report from the committee of the Board to which had been referred the ordinance to widen the avenue to eighty feet. The committee stated in its report that the street is now sixty feet, is occupied by two street railway tracks and is too narrow to properly accommodate travel. The committee believe that the width of seventy feet would be sufficient, and that that width could be obtained without a great amount of damage to property. The Board also approved plans for the re-location of curves for the Union Traction Company at Fifteenth and Erie avenue and Sixth and Christian streets.

The itemized estimate of the Park Commission of the expense of maintaining Fairmount and Hunting Parks during 1898 has been prepared and submitted to Councils' Committee on Fairmount Park. The total calls for $778,940.50, which is $226,625.25 in excess of the sum appropriated for the present year. Included in this schedule is $100,000 for beginning construction on a Fine Arts building, in accordance with adopted plans; $50,000 for widening the East river drive; $5,000 for improving and macadamizing drives; $35,000 for improving and maintaining the Zoological Gardens; $3,800 for extension of water supply and developing springs; $5,000 for construction of pedestal for statue of General Grant; $125,000 for general maintenance, and $100,000 for work of a permanent character.

Pemberton & Co., real estate operators, have sold to Henry L. Weir eighty-six lots of ground for $47,929.16, situated as follows: Twenty-four on the south side of Girard avenue, between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets; ten on the west side of Fifty-fifth street, between Supplee and Cambridge streets; ten on the east side of Fifty-fifth street, between Supplee and Cambridge streets; twenty-one on the north side of Supplee street, between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets; and twenty-one on the south side of Cambridge street, between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets. Mr. Weir proposes to build on these lots at once. The houses to be erected on the Girard avenue lots will be two-story eight-room dwellings, built in pairs, with side and back yards, porch fronts, etc. The houses to be built on Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Supplee and Cambridge streets will be two-story dwellings, built in rows, with porches and grass plots in front, and will contain all the modern conveniences.

A movement is being made among our citizens of Swedish descent to erect a memorial church to be known as the Gustavus Adolphus Memorial, to commemorate the early settlement of that people upon the banks of the Delaware. The proposed edifice will be, architecturally, as striking as the contributions to the building fund will allow. Included in the plans for the memorial are a life-sized statue of the hero, historical tablets and illuminated inscriptions.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

Friends in Sweden have expressed a desire to furnish a magnificent stained-glass window. No site for the church has yet been secured, and it is hoped that someone will supply this want by donation. Otherwise purchase money for the grounds will have to be taken from the general fund. Those authorized to take subscriptions for the memorial are: John E. Osborn, soliciting secretary of the building committee, No. 608 Chestnut street; P. B. Carlen, treasurer, No. 1303 Walnut street, and Rev. C. A. Blomgren, No. 1614 Fairmount avenue.

A further extension of the club-house of the Union League will soon be undertaken. In a few days the work of tearing down the buildings at Nos. 1430, 1432, 1434 and 1436 Sansom street and four dwellers on Moravian street will begin, and the Club's purchased or secured options on all the other properties on these two streets up to Fifteenth street, and on the house fronting on the latter thoroughfare. The Club now has a frontage of over 100 feet on Broad street and a depth of 265 feet on Moravian and Sansom streets; when it finally extends its house to Fifteenth street it will have a depth of 300 feet. The cost of these properties will be between $150,000 and $200,000. The buildings to be torn down are to make way for a garden, and while no definite determination has been reached as to what will be done with the other structures come into possession of the League, one of the propositions is to erect a number of new dormitories, an arcade entrance from Fifteenth street to the annex, and possibly the erection of a fine auditorium. It has also been suggested that a large restaurant be added to the Club, where members can take their families or friends after the play.

At the next election, in November, the people will have an opportunity to vote upon creation of a loan for $11,000,000 for public purposes. This money, if borrowed, will be applied as follows, after the ordinance has been completed and offered to Councils for final action: One hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the improvement of suburban roads; $900,000 for completion of Boys' High School and erection of new school buildings; $500,000 for building main sewers; $200,000 for building art gallery; $200,000 for building new almshouse; $900,000 for abolition of grade crossings on the line of the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad; $2,000,000 for equipment and building of Philadelphia Museum; $3,700,000 for extension improvement and filtration of water supply, at least $1,000,000 of which shall be expended to increase and improve the water supply of that portion of the city of Philadelphia lying west of the Schuylkill river; $100,000 for extension of Fairmount Park; $2,000,000 for repaving streets, tramway streets and intersections and underground work incident thereto; $600,000 for building bridges; $50,000 for improvement to public parks or squares; $300,000 for purchase of ground and building of fire and police stations and electrical and underground construction; $400,000 for grading and repairs to paved streets, curved curbing, resurfacing asphalt streets, repairs to bridges, repairs to sidewalks (city property) and repairs to ditches and sluices.

Architect Notes.

Wm. McCauley, architect, has taken offices at the southeast corner of Sixteenth and Chestnut streets, room 401, where he will have enlarged facilities for business.

Mantle Bunting, architect, Heed building, has let the contract for Mrs. Clement's house at Lansdowne, Pa., to W. S. Birdsall, contractor, of that place. It has been fully noted in these columns previously.

Roydhouse, Arey & Co., contractors, have the contract to build a factory for G. H. McNeely & Co., at Edgemont and Tioja streets. Walter Smedley, the architect, drew the plans. Noted fully in detail previously.

Architects McCollin and East, 1001 Chestnut street, have awarded R. C. Ballinger & Co. the contract to make alterations to as tore on Market street above Twelfth for Messrs. Kayser & Allman, of 418 Arch street. These have been noted in full previously.

Furness Evans & Co., architects, Provident Life Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, have made plans for a fine residence to be erected at South Orange, N. J., for F. L. Du Bosque. The building will be a frame and stone one, with all modern improvements.

Bungart and Jackson, architects, 1345 Arch street, are engaged on plans and specifications for a hotel to be erected at Long Branch, N. J. The structure will be of frame and brick, slate roof, four stories high. All the electrical and other improvements will be introduced.

The Weightman office building, 1424-1426 Chestnut street, having been completed, under supervision of Mr. Willis G. Hale, architect, the same gentleman has taken a fine suite of offices in the building, where he will in future have fine facilities for pursuit of his profession.

John D. Allen, architect, 1017 Chestnut street, has had his plans accepted by E. H. Barney for a house to be erected at Springfield, Mass., in what is known as Forrest Park in that city. The building will be of stone and stylish in general design. All the most modern improvements will be introduced.

J. E. Jackson, architect, 804 Walnut street, has finished plans for an apartment house to be erected at Fourth and Carpenter streets for B. B. Penok, to be of stone, terra cotta and brick, four stories high and 40 x 100 feet in area. All the most modern conveniences for such houses will be introduced.

A. C. Munoz, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has made plans and taken bids for a club house to be erected at Seabright, N. J., for the Seabright Golf Club. It will be of frame, with a shingle roof, one story high and basement. All the latest comforts and conveniences will be introduced. No contract let.

George Mason, architect, Drexel building, is engaged on plans for a school building to be erected at Seventeenth street and Delancy place. It will be of stone, brick and iron, with a slate roof, six stories high and basement. All late improvements will be introduced. The structure is for the Delancy Academy.

Thomas Bennett, architect, 923 Locust street, has on boards plans for a dwelling to be erected at Germantown. The owner's name not given at present. Structure will be of local stone, slate roof, and contain on interior all the latest finish and comforts. It is likely estimates may be asked at an early day upon the work.

Joseph M. Huston, the well-known architect, Provident Life Building, in this city, has on boards plans for an eighteen-story office building which is to be erected in the near future, the exact location being held private. Sufficient is learned, however, that it will stand in a very prominent part of Philadelphia and of a highly ornamental character. The structure will be erected entirely under Mr. Huston's supervision.

It is understood the general work of construction of the sixteen-story office building at the southeast corner of Broad and Chestnut streets will be accomplished in sections, on account of the unexpired lease of tenants now occupying part of the premises to be torn down. Mr. E. V. Seeler, the architect, will arrange his plans of construction and details so as to meet the emergency. A full description of this work has appeared in these columns previously.

Schermerhorn and Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, are engaged on plans for a fine residence for W. S. Crock, to be erected at Upland Terrace. Also for a large building operation at Germantown, involving about $30,000. These are to be houses in pairs, of brick, Flemish style of architecture, interior fitted in oak and chestnut, roofs of slate and cornices galvanized iron. The owner will be Amos D. Kennedy. Also plans for a house for Wm. Marsden, to be erected at Logan Station, Philadelphia. A stable will be built on rear of the same lot, both to be of local stone, slate roofs, the house three stories high and fitted with hard wood on interior and all modern conveniences, including electric work, best plumbing, etc.

E. F. Durang, architect, southwest corner of Twelfth and Chestnut streets, has completed drawings for the new parish school that is to be erected for St. Columbia's Catholic Church, at the southwest corner of Twenty-third street and Lehigh avenue, under charge of Rev. W. P. Gough. Also for a church to be erected in the near future. These are to be of stone and brick construction, hard wood interior, best sanitary plumbing and improved ventilation. A separate boiler-house and lavatory will be added. It is expected work will be started at an early day. Also plans by same architect for an alteration to St. John's Roman Catholic Church at Hazleton, Pa. These contemplate extensive remodeling interior and all latest improvements, including steam heat, electric work, plumbing, mosaic work, fresco work, etc.

At Clementtown, Camden Co., a pleasure park will be established to contain about four hundred and thirty-two acres. The plan is to make it a headquarters for clubs, and the first twelve clubs will be given ground upon which to erect buildings, each one to cost not less than $1,000. The ground is owned by W. G. Daniels, of Magnolia, N. J., and P. P. Elkinton, 211 South Sixth st., Phila., is preparing the plans for the various improvements, including a hotel to contain about ninety rooms, lodge building, entrance building, bicycle storage sheds and modern amusements. Also a number of pavilions, guard houses, grand stands and an electric light plant. There will be an artificial lake one mile wide and three-quarters of a mile long which will be surrounded by boat and bath houses. There will be also a race track and tennis courts. Mr. Elkinton will have charge of the engineering and building contracts. The estimated cost of the improvement is $150,000. The same architect is engaged on plans for an alteration to a hotel in this city. The work will be of an extensive nature and will be noted later. Neither the location nor the owner's name could be obtained at present.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Armstrong & Printzenhoff, contractors, are about to erect two sheds at Piers Nos. 22 and 24 South Wharves. These are to be of corrugated iron, and both noted previously in this journal.

Stacey Reeves & Son, 1611 Filbert street, are estimating on a two-story addition and mansard roof to the house of Dr. George McClellan, at southeast corner Broad and Spruce streets.

Fire destroyed nearly the whole of No. 32 South Front street, owned by the Churchman estate, on the 23d inst. It is understood repairs will be made at once. The amount involved is about $60,000.

J. B. Rasmussen, owner and builder, is about to start erection of nine two-story houses on west side of Fifty-eighth street, north of Arch, and a large store and dwelling at the southwest corner of Fifty-eighth and Cherry streets.

Streeter & Scheafer, builders, will begin an operation of dwellings in the First ward at Third and Ritner streets. These will be of press and fancy brick, stone facings, and stylish in design. All the modern comforts will be introduced.

John McCrear, the well-known operative builder, is about to start an operation of seventy-six houses on west side of Fifty-eighth street, north of Callowhill and Wannamaker streets, and also on Hobart street north of Callowhill. These are to be of brick and stone, three stories high, with all late improvements. These were noted previously in this journal.

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 29, 1897

THERE is no room for misunderstanding the sentiments of the T-Square Club of this City as to the shabby treatment the Capitol Building Commissioners gave, not only the competing architects, but its own board of architectural experts, at the head of which was Professor Warren P. Laird.

Governor Hastings' withdrawal from the Commission as well as his scathing denunciations of its double dealing methods were not only justified, but as an honorable man there was nothing for him to do except sever his connection with a body of men who held the honor of the State in such slight estimate.

There is the ring of pure metal in the following preamble and resolutions, and they are of more importance than protests of this nature usually are, because they come from men who are the best authority in the land:

WHEREAS, A majority of the State Capitol Commission has violated its agreement with competing architects; has treated its able and conscientious expert adviser, Professor Warren P. Laird, with contempt; has discredited, not only him, but the other members of the expert jury, Mr. Carere and Mr. Cook; and has made statements to justify its dishonorable action, which statements are denounced as unfair and untrue, both by the jury and by the Governor as head of the Commission; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the T-Square Club that the said majority of the Commission, in violating their agreement with competing architects, and in disregarding the recommendations of their own experts and the warnings of the Governor, has proved themselves unfit to be trusted, and should be impeached.

Resolved, That the architectural profession, and the citizens of this Commonwealth are warned that the evident intention of a majority of the Commission to select an architect without reference to the terms of the contract they have made is a public scandal which calls for immediate correction.

Resolved, That this club pledges itself, to the distinguished and honorable Board of Experts, to uphold them, and the reputable element in the profession, in their protest against the disgraceful action of the majority of the Commission.

PROFESSOR WARREN P. LAIRD has resigned as architectural expert adviser to the Harrisburg Capitol Building Commission.

Professor Laird's protest, while couched in mild and gentlemanly language, is full of deep earnestness, as he feels that the Building Commission has broken faith with him, with the Board of Experts, and with every competing architect. In it he says:

"But if you have, in my opinion, violated the terms of your contract with the competitors, and have entered upon a course of action in which I cannot accompany you without loss of self-respect and professional honor. I stand ready to perform my full duty as your adviser, and I ask respectfully that I be given opportunity to complete my service under the terms of the programme. Should you be unwilling, however, to grant this request, I am left no alternative but that of presenting my resignation as your adviser. I respectfully ask that immediate action be taken on my request, and that if it cannot be granted my resignation in that case, hereby offered, be accepted, to take effect immediately."

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, is receiving bids on a two-story attic ward for the Presbyterian Hospital at Devon, Pa. The structure is of Port Deposit stone, and will be fitted with all late conveniences.

General contractors in this city are making estimates on a bank building to be erected at Fox Chase. The structure will be of stone, brick and iron, with bank fittings and fixtures on interior. This work was noted in this journal some months ago.

Elmer Higgins, builder, will at once make alterations of an extensive character to the store and residence 3820 Lancaster avenue, for A. K. Allen, of this city, owner. Painting, glazing, papering and carpenter work are included in the new work.

Builder Geo. H. Backmire is about erecting fourteen two-story eight-room houses at Tioga street and York road. E. Allen Wilson, 402 Bourse Building, drew the plans, and they contemplate handsome brick fronts with stone trimmings and best modern conveniences.

H. L. Weir, owner and builder, is about to start the erection of twenty-two dwellings and two stores and dwellings on south side Girard avenue above Fifty-fifth street. These are to be of press brick fronts and stone trimmings, with best modern conveniences in interior.

A. S. Tourison, contractor, 6105 Germantown avenue, will at once begin the erection of four houses in Germantown. These are to be of brick and stone, galvanized iron cornices and tin roofs. Hot-air heating, best plumbing, plate glass, gas fixtures and best conveniences will be introduced.

Col. Edward McGovern, a civil engineer and railroad contractor, of Lancaster, Pa., died in that city, September 19. He was professionally engaged for three years on the Vera Cruz-Mexico Railway in Mexico, and afterward supervised railroad construction in Pennsylvania and in the far West.

Plans are on boards in office of John R. Wiggins, 1220 Filbert street, for a house to be erected at 2023 Allegheny avenue, for Mr. Joseph F. Schreiber. The structure will be of mottled brick, stone trimmings, hard wood interior finish and all modern comforts and conveniences. Architect's name not given on drawings.

Mr. Percy Herbert Ashmead, of Philadelphia, a young civil engineer, who for the past four years has been on duty on the Chicago drainage canal, has been appointed to take charge of a topographical party under the United States Deep Waterways Commission, in the survey of a ship canal from the great lakes to tide water on the Hudson river. His headquarters will be at Tonawanda, N. Y.

Thomas W. Wright & Sons, contractors, are at work upon the house for Wm. D. Kelly, on Cliveden avenue, between Morton and Ash streets, Germantown. The structure will be three stories high, shingle roof, hard wood interior and best modern conveniences. Charles L. Hillman, architect, 50 South Fourth street, drew the plans. Mr. Hillman is engaged on other drawings which will be noted at an early day.

The committee on school property, Board of Education, has awarded the contract for additions and alterations to rear of the new boys' High School building, to Robert S. Johnson. This body has also decided to ask City Councils to pave with asphalt Cherry street between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets, so that the scholars in the adjacent schools may not be disturbed by noises. The committee are also considering the purchase of property adjoining the Heaton school at Fifty-fourth street and Lansdowne avenue. The whole matter has been left with Mr. Kavanagh, of the Board of Education.

The Dycerhoff Portland cement, for which Messrs. Lesley and Triickle, Fairmount avenue wharf, this city, are the agents, was recently given a very severe test in a competition between the Roebbling, Thomson, McCabe and Columbian systems of fire proofing for floors of large buildings. The test was made by direction of the New York Building Department, and the Dycerhoff cement was used in the McCabe system. The central arch of the McCabe test floor, which was made of concrete composed of Dycerhoff Portland cement, one barrel; anthracite coal cinders, four barrels; and sand, one barrel. This central arch after drying was loaded with 150 pounds of pig iron to each square foot of floor surface, and the weight was placed so that it rested upon the concrete only, care being taken that the weight should not rest upon the iron beams. A terrific fire composed of shavings, petroleum and cordwood, two feet deep, was kept burning for three hours, when cold water was thrown upon the ceiling, which at that moment had been heated to a test temperature representing a maximum of 2,325 degrees, and a deflection of 0.345 inch only was discovered, and that too without any serious cracks between the blocks. This is certainly a wonderful showing for the Dycerhoff Portland cement.

F. L. Hoover & Son, contractors, 708 Jayne street, are estimating on a fine house to be erected at Glenside, Pa. It is to be of local stone, slate roof, three stories high and basement. All comforts and improvements to date will be installed.

Isaac Dunne & Co., builders, have broken ground for a large dwelling operation that is estimated will cost about $100,000, on the north side of Eaglesfield street, Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth streets. All are to be of fancy brick fronts, stone steps and facings, and interior to contain all comforts.

The National Association of Master Builders has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Thomas R. Bentley, of Milwaukee, president; William H. Alsip, of Chicago, first vice-president; Stacey Reeves, of Philadelphia, second vice-president. George Tapper, of Chicago, was re-elected treasurer for the eleventh time, and W. H. Sayward, of Boston, was re-elected secretary. The following directors were named: C. E. Clark, Boston; C. A. Rupp, Buffalo; W. M. Crilly, Chicago; C. A. Cowan, New York; George Watson, Philadelphia; John Finn, Detroit; W. H. Kimball, Lowell; John Luther, Rochester, and H. W. Schlaeger, Milwaukee. The Building Inspectors' Association re-elected its officers and decided to meet when the Builders' Association assembles again.

At this time, perhaps, it may be proper to give a brief resume of the condition of large building operations as they have progressed to date. The office building at the southwest corner of Chestnut and Broad streets is now under roof and sides being enclosed around the steel skeleton. The projected neighbor structure just across the street, for the Freeman estate, has not as yet been fully started. The American Baptist building in close proximity to both the latter, upon Chestnut west of Broad street, is fully ready for all the inside work. All the large office and store buildings upon the site of the destructive fire last winter at Thirteenth and Market streets, are under roof and ready for inside finish, save one, a nine-story structure upon the western limit of this operation, which has been started under the supervision of Charles McCaul, the well-known contractor. The alteration to the interior of the Girard Building, at Broad and Chestnut streets, is approaching completion. The Stephen Girard office building, at Twelfth and Girard streets, is receiving interior work and finishing touches upon exterior. The large office building and apartment house at Twelfth and Walnut streets is, also, ready for inside finish, and its neighbor, the great Witherspoon Building, is in the same condition. Other minor work, under the favorable building weather, is progressing at a rapid rate.

Frisby Smith, architect, 1345 Arch street, wants bids on eight dwellings at Girard and Belmont avenues, for the entire fronts, including mottled brick, limestone trimmings, galvanized iron work and large plate glass windows. The interiors will be fitted with all modern conveniences, some of which are not contracted for.

It is expected bids will be asked at an early day upon the Children's Play-house and Monumental Arch to be erected under provisions of the will of the late Richard Smith of this city. All the above work will be done after plans of Architect James H. Windrim, 1107 Walnut street, and erected under his direct supervision. Fully noted in this journal in previous issues.

Morgan Bunting, architect, 1215 Filbert street, has made plans for an alteration and addition to store 1612-14 Ludlow street for S. S. Pennock, owner. This work calls for excavation, stone and brick work, paving with artificial stone, furnace heat, roofing, painting, plastering and glazing, etc. Estimates being made in office of John R. Wiggins, 1230 Filbert street.

Revised estimates have been made on the warehouse and stable to be erected at Ninth and Jefferson streets, for Mr. Talbot Hyde, of New York City. Plans have been made by Architect Feinan, of Jersey City, N. J., and were fully described when original estimates were made on the work some weeks since. Plans in office of Stacy Reeves & Sons and other contractors.

Hewitt Bros., architects, Bullitt Building, will prepare the plans for the Commercial Museum, to be erected at Almshouse lane and University avenue. It will be four stories high, of brick, iron, stone and terra cotta work. The interior will be arranged in sub-divisions for exhibition purposes. Steam heat and electric work, elevators and freight lifts will be introduced, and all general modern improvements. Fuller details will be given later.

Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, are still on boards of contractors, Doyle & Deak, 133 South Fifteenth street; Charles McCaul, 10 North Eleventh street, and Stacy Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street, for estimates. The structure will be granite, brick and pebble dashed, hard wood interior fittings and best modern conveniences. This work has been fully noted previously in these columns.

tain all the latest modern improvements. The drawings for the above may be seen at the office of Charles McCaul, general contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, where estimates are now being made on the work.

Church, at Audendree, near Hazleton, Pa., are progressing towards completion. Noted previously.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 6, 1897

The Stockholders of the Bourse will be called together on October 15th, next. At this meeting they will be asked to contribute $18.75 per share for the purpose of paying the debts of the concern. If they refuse to do this it will be impossible for the Directors to meet the financial obligations which will be due on November 1st, and which are imperative. The amount due is about $400,000 and is entirely independent of the bonded debt, which amounts to one million dollars. There is not the least chance that this enormous sum will be subscribed by the shareholders, and it will take clever financing to prevent litigation and the subsequent sale of the property. We suggested some time ago that a proper appeal made to such business organizations of the city as the Maritime Exchange, The Trade League, The Board of Trade, and others might possibly arouse a sentiment which would culminate in a plan to raise the amount necessary to pay the debts of the concern and save it from the sheriff, but such a plan would necessitate an admission of failure on the part of the Bourse Managers, which, of course, they will not make. Their failure to make the institution a success is, however, apparent to every one, and it is also very plain that the stockholders are not willing to sacrifice $18.75 per share more for the purpose of perpetuating the concern under the old management, which has proved incompetent to appreciate the purposes for which the Bourse was organized.

The material will be principally concrete, cement, stone, brick and iron work. The plans for the great superstructure are being pushed to completion as fast as possible.

The committee on city property of Councils has visited grounds adjacent to Blockley Almshouse to examine the site for a proposed botanical garden, and under control of the Philadelphia Museum. If transferred, the grounds will be fitted as a public park and graded. Walks and other improvements will be part of the programme.

[illegible]

The properties 105-107 109 South Thirteenth street have been purchased by J. Wallace Hallowell, fruit merchant, and Jos. V. Horn, for $99,000, through the Philadelphia Trust Company and J. Murray Rush representing former owners. No improvement or alteration of the status of these buildings is intended in the near future, the purchase being simply a matter of investment.

Benjamin Short, builder, will commence at once an operation at Hunting Park avenue, Pulaski avenue and Alfred street, in the Thirty-eighth ward. The cost will be about $55,000 and the dwellings built of best materials, press and fancy brick, stone steps and facings, wooden mantels, electric work, heaters and ranges of an improved pattern, and all the latest comforts.

Geo. W. Stewart, contractor, 230 Diamond street, will at once begin work on the superstructure of the new school house at southwest corner Diamond and Howard streets. It will be three stories high, Port Deposit stone, and furnished with latest interior improvements. A full description has been given in these columns previously of this work.

Columbia Heater and Range Co., 1634 North Eleventh street, has been awarded the contract for the heater, range and cornice work on 110 two-story dwellings for Mr. Alex. Cowan, to be erected at Twenty-ninth and Reed streets, and the heater and range work on thirty-six two-story dwellings for Mr. David Cram, to be erected at Sixty-six-and-one-half street and Woodland avenue.

Among the estimates for the year 1898 for maintenance of Blockley Almshouse are items as follows: $15,000 for repairs in general to Insane Department; for dry goods and notions, $37,000; boots, shoes, hats and caps, $7,000; housefurnishing goods and furniture, $8,500; groceries, etc., $43,000; fuel, $28,000. These items will likely be embodied in the new appropriation by the Finance Committee of City Councils.

William Steele & Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut street, have the contract to erect the carpet factory of Mr. Thomas Boggs, at Second street and Allegheny avenue. The structure will be of brick, iron and slow-burning construction, four stories high and 100 x 2.0 feet in area. All modern conveniences will be introduced, freight lifts, electric wiring, cement work, steam power and heat, etc. Work to start at once.

J. J. Nesbitt & Co., 805 Master street, have been awarded the following steam heating contracts : L. Rodenhauseu, drug store at Broad and Cumberland streets; residences of Charles Class, 1906 North Twelfth street; J. M. Rowland, 1626 Susquehanna avenue; H. Ludwick, 266 South Twentieth street; Cahill & Brother, 264 South Twentieth street; also in the power house of the Bala and Merion Electric Company, Bala, Pa.

Atlantic City, N. J., is quite sure of having the contemplated new pier erected in time for next season, as the board of directors just elected contain names which mean business, among which are as follows: A. O. Dayton, Dr. L. S. Filbert, Herman Kretz, J. M. Mack, J. L. Clawson, D. McMahon, Morris Pfelzer, Wm. McMurray and W. T. Teirs. Some of the stockholders are J. J. Snellenburg, Chas. A. Porter, S. R. Shipley, Max and Leopold Bromberger, Louis Kuehrie and Jno. T. Windrim.

An ordinance will be introduced at an early day asking for an appropriation of property contiguous to the Blockley Almshouse and near South street bridge over the Schuylkill river, for the purpose of laying out and maintaining a botanical garden. This is intended to join the grounds upon which the new Commercial Museum is to be erected, and the two institutions will occupy all the land between the bridge, the river and Woodland Cemetery on the southwest. Much grading and filling in will be required to render it available.

A Philadelphia enterprise, the National Kaolin and Ornamental Brick Company, 313 Bourse Building, has secured the contract for supplying ornamental face bricks of light gray, i. e. the first of the series of new school houses to be built by Greater New York. These schools will be the finest in the world. They cover an entire block of ground, with great court yard in the centre. Over $20,000,000 has been appropriated for the series, and our home brick company has the prospect of supplying more of them. Their bricks are made at Brandywine Summit, Pa., and are made of kaolin, the bed being very extensive.

A determined effort is about to be made to abolish the present Municipal Hospital, and there is much opposition to the further purchase of ground contiguous thereto. It is claimed that the institution being now surrounded by dwellings and entirely closed in, it is a menace to the general health of the people and should be removed to a more isolated site in the suburbs. A committee of citizens interested was appointed at a general meeting at the Bourse Building, on September 30th, among whom are Rev. Russell

H. Conwell, James L. Stevenson, H. R. Shock, Bernard Corr, Louis Paul, Geo. V. Cresson, M. Melody, J. Dingee, John Stafford and others.

The estimates of the Board of Education for building new school houses and the improvements to those now in use as well as the purchase of sites, for the year 1898, is $3,801,500. The items included are as follows: First Section, addition to the David Poy school house, Eighth and Tenth streets, $15,000. Remodel Tasker school house, $15,000. Second Tasker street, $5,000. Additional lot, Morris school house, $15,000. Second Section, purchase property adjoining Nebinger school house, Sixth and Carpenter streets, $15,000. Bonham & Rowe, contractors, have received the contract to finish the erection of Sedgely guardhouse in Fairmount Park and have started work. This is the annulled contract of Mr. Cooper, mentioned in our last issue as recommended by Superintendent Thayer.

The Board of Education have concluded to recommend the purchase of an additional lot of ground for the purpose of making a large addition to the Girls' High School, and include the whole block from Sixteenth and Seventeenth and Spring Garden to Brandywine streets.

The Building Commissioners at Harrisburg, Pa., will on Thursday next proceed to select an architect to prepare plans for the new Capitol Building to be erected at that place. The consideration of law points having now been chiefly settled are no longer an obstacle in the way of practical work being started. An important project is now on foot for a World's Exposition to be held in this city at a time during 1898 to be fixed upon at a later day. The enterprise has its origin in the management of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum at Fourth street and Willing's alley, and Prof. Wilson is deeply engrossed upon the details, having interviews with architects, builders and others who must play a prominent part in the undertaking. It is expected the cost of the structures to be erected, which will be of a permanent character, will be about $1,500,000. The committee on plans is composed of members of the Trades League, Manufacturers' Club, Board of Trade and Franklin Institute, the latter organization having had some experience in such matters previously. Whilst all matters are as yet unsettled as to construction of buildings and location, yet sufficient has developed to indicate an early action by the general committee,

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 27, 1897

FRANCIS SHUNK BROWN has been elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Trust Company. Mr. Brown is a well-known member of the Philadelphia Bar.

MRS. F. A. WARNER, of Jacksonville, Florida, who seems to be an expert in shells and shell lore, has kindly sent to this office a small but very interesting collection representing her favorite study, among which are several that for many years passed as money among the Indians of our own continent, and in some parts of Asia and Africa even at the present time. One, known as (moneta) money cowry, is of standard commercial interest, and is imported from the coast of the Maldive Islands into Britain, from which place it is exported by shippers in large quantities for trade with the natives of Western Africa. In Bengal 3,200 cowries, according to Mrs. Warner's statement, are equal to a rupee. These shells, as well as the wampum of the American Indians, a sample of which is among the number, properly belong among the collections of rare coins; they are consequently held in high esteem by numismatists. The wampum of the American Indians had a fixed value equal to four cents of our own money. Its use dates back to 1570, and it was very popular among Sioux and Apaches. Wampum shells, even as a curiosity, have become very scarce, and Mrs. Warner has probably in her possession the only considerable quantity of wampum in the United States. Mrs. Warner's advertisement is in our advertising columns.

In the competitive civil service examination, recently held by the United States Treasury Department for the purpose of selecting from among the applicants a suitable person for supervising architect, Mr.

James K. Taylor, a Philadelphian, was awarded the prize. Mr. Taylor was second in the examination, Architect Constable, of New York, having a slightly higher average, but Mr. Taylor's several years of experience in the department, during which time he has fully demonstrated his capabilities, together with the fact that he has justly earned the confidence and esteem of the Treasury officials was deemed of more consideration than the slight difference in the averages. Mr. Taylor votes in Congressman A. C. Harmer's district, of this city. He was formerly a member of the firm of Boyden & Taylor, architects, 413 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

Architect Notes.

The new Capitol building at Harrisburg, for which the plans of Architect Henry Ives Cobb, of Chicago, have been accepted by the Capitol Building Commission, cannot be erected for the stipulated sum of $550,000 from Mr. Cobb's plans, and from Mr. Cobb's own alleged statement, any more than it might have been from the plans of the several Pennsylvania architects whose plans were recommended by a regularly constituted board of architectural experts; but it is possible, it is stated, to construct the two legislative buildings, offices and committee rooms for the State Government before the next session of the Legislature for that sum. The dome, as provided for by the plans for the central building, will cost about $100,000, but a low dome is suggested as an expedient until further suitable appropriations can be obtained. The plans provide for a central building, with two wings or extensions to be used as legislative halls, etc., to be connected with the central or main building. Granite or marble can be used for the superstructure, which is to be made with a modern steel frame. The plans provide for simple straight work free from bothersome angles or other complications to materially increase the cost of construction. The interior work for the lower floors will be marble and stucco, while rigid economy must be practiced in the finishing of the upper stories. The exterior of all these buildings is to be treated with the simplest ornamentation, the main dependence being placed upon the proposed dome to give character and dignity to the entire structure.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

James Ashley, builder, has started to erect a fine bank building at Fox Chase for R. J. Filbert. Structure to be of stone 39 x 50 feet, two stories high. Previously noted.

Roydhouse, Aley & Co., contractors, will build an addition to the S. S. White dental plant at Frankford, 32 x 57 ft., 3-story brick and iron construction. Noted in a previous issue.

Frank M. Forsyth will begin at once five dwellings at the southeast corner of Sixty-and-one-half and Vine streets. These are to be of pressed brick, stone trimmings, and modern conveniences, etc.

John Owens, builder, will at once begin to build fourteen dwellings, three stories high, on west side of Boyer street, north of Gowan avenue. All to be of stone and brick, with best conveniences, etc.

Charles Yundt, contractor, 2108 Germantown avenue, is receiving sub-contractors' bids for work on a proposed church building at the northwest corner of Main street and Lehigh avenue, for the congregation of the Church of the Holy Cross.

Buck & Gallagher, corner Ninth and Wolf streets, have been awarded the contracts for the cut stone work on dwelling for Mr. Wm. B. Gest, at Merion, Pa., and the Pascoe apartment house, to be erected at Thirteenth and Budd streets, Philadelphia.

Chas. McCaul, contractor, No. 10 North Eleventh street, has started work on the branch office building for the Bell Telephone Company, at Seventeenth and Poplar streets, to be two stories high, 26 x 60 feet and cost about $15,000. Previously noted in these columns.

William R. Dougherty, contractor, 1604 Sansom street, has been given a contract to build the house for John Mathieu of this city, by Hales & Ballinger, architects. Also for that of Jos. Schreiber, at 2035 Allegheny avenue, both of which have been fully noted before in this journal.

Stacey Reeves & Sons, contractors, 1611 Filbert street, have on board for estimates, drawings for a new plant of the Consumers' Brewing Company, of Trenton, N. J. It will be of brick, stone and iron, with every modern improvement, steam power, electric work and general conveniences.

John R. Wiggins, contractor, 1220 Filbert street, is making estimates for a house at Bala Station, Phila., for a private party. It will be of local stone, three stories high, 35 x 35 feet. Interior will be in hard woods, electric work, steam heat, leaded and plain glass, with all implements and conveniences, etc.

Mr. Morris Hecksher, Manhattan Building, contemplates erecting, at Bryn Mawr, a fine house, but has not as yet plans of an architect. The building will be of stone, three stories high, interior will be in hard woods. Steam heat, electric work, cement floors in cellar and walks; all modern conveniences will be introduced.

A & G. Bohern, cornice works, 15th and Federal streets, have received a contract for cornice work on an operation of Franklin Moss at Thirty-third and Cumberland streets. Also for another at Fifty-first street and Baltimore avenue for Ford & Maloney. The same firm have just completed a fine piece of work for Holstein & Haven. Also another, a hotel building at Sussex Park, for Bernard Owens. Considerable orders are booked for other work.

Director Riter has awarded the contract for restoration of Independence Hall and surroundings to their original condition, to Stacey Reeves & Sons, general contractors, 1611 Filbert street. Messrs Reeves & Sons have finished a prior contract of a limited character upon these buildings, and whilst they were not low bidders, yet in the discretion of the Director they were considered favorably because of their ability and experience to properly execute the work.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., January 6th, 1896.

We take pleasure in adding our testimony to the many you already have regarding the fire-proof quality of your various materials. We have tested it in numerous ways and find it practically impossible to inflame wood or any other inflammable material wherever it is applied, thus rendering it most valuable wherever wood or fibrous materials are used.

Respectfully,
PABST BREWING COMPANY, by G. G. Pabst, Vice-Pres.

Charles W. Bolton, architect, has removed to a fine suite of offices in the Witherspoon Building, Walnut street below Broad, where he has especial facilities for his business requirements.

Slack & Hill, architects, Trenton, N. J., are taking bids on a residence to be erected at that place for Leslie Pierson, frame, three stories, hot air, gas and electric work, and all modern conveniences, etc.

W. L. Price, architect, 731 Walnut street, has on boards plans for dwellings at Overbrook, Pa., to be of stone, three stories high, slate roof, steam heat, electric work, and modern improvements.

Harry Peale, Jr., Harrison Building, has in preparation plans for alteration and addition to the St. Charles Hotel, at Atlantic City, N. J. These consist of new lavatories, urinals, closets and other minor work.

Thos. M. Seeds, Jr., contractor, will at once erect two store buildings at 515-20 Vine street for Jacob Seeds. These will be 29 x 97 ft., three stories high, and fitted throughout with every convenience, etc.

Henry Ives Cobb, architect, says he will have detailed plans ready for excavation of the basement of the new capitol building at Harrisburg, Pa., the coming week, when estimates can be invited upon the work. These are to be advertised in several State papers.

Louis Hickman, architect, 328 Chestnut st., has awarded the contract for residence of Dr. F. Baker, 1813 Spruce street, to John Duncan, 905 Chant street. All late conveniences can be placed in this house, as indicated in a previous note in these columns.

Architect Thomas Stephen, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has given a contract for David Baird to M. C. Lyons, of that place, to furnish and build a large burial vault. To be stone and granite, one story, 16 x 25 ft., also brick, iron, and cement work. Cost $12,000.

E. F. Durang, architect, 130 Chestnut street, has on boards for estimate the plans for the Convent building at Pittston, Pa., which has been fully noted in these columns. The building will be 65 x 75 feet, three story brick and stone, steam heat, slate roof, leaded glass windows, and all modern improvements in interior.

Plans have been made by Hales and Billwinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, for a dye works, at Amber street and Allegheny avenue for Charles Techner. The structure will be of brick, stone and iron, one story high. Estimates are being made on the work.

R. W. Boyle, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has completed plans for an apartment house to be erected on Christian street below Sixth in this city, and is awaiting orders from the owners to build. The structure will be an up-to-date one in appointments. It will be 20 x 100 feet in area, brick and stone, with considerable galvanized iron work, the interior fitted with all modern devices for comfort.

Schermerhorn & Rheinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have made complete drawings for a barn for S. B. Fottrell, at Fox Chase, Pa. It will be stone and frame work, shingle roof, and floors of cement. A freight lift and general conveniences introduced. Also for a stable for Miss R. Massett, at Narberth, Pa., to be erected at Dudley and Windsor avenues, and the contract has been awarded to Clothier Bros., of that place.

J. Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has completed plans for a country house at Beverly, N. J., for Mrs. McHenry, of that place. It will be of stone and frame, three stories high, slate roof, electric work, finest plumbing, leaded and plain glass, hot water, heat, tiling, etc. Cost about $5000. Same architect has made plans for a hotel to be erected at Phoenix, Arizona, for Dr. Gerhard, of this city. It will be three stories high, brick and frame, and all hotel appliances in interior.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

John F. Coulborn, contractor, will at once erect a mission building at Fifteenth and Aspen streets. It will be 12 x 16 feet, one story and of frame work.

James Armstrong, owner and builder, will start work at once on eleven two-story houses, brick, marble fronts, on east side of Grosbeck, south of Clearfield street.

Contractor Thomas Seeds, Jr., 212 S. Seventh street, has been receiving plans for a store to be erected at Eighth and Vine streets. Brick, stone and iron. Cost about $7000. Private plans.

Work is to be resumed on the new Penna. R. R. station at Germantown Junction, with some changes in the original designs. Also a new station for the same line at the Blairsville intersection of the Pittsburg Division, and alterations to the Tyrone station, same line.

W. T. B. Roberts, Bourse Building, will make great improvements at once upon the Richardson estate on the Reading R. R., near Willow Grove. Chester E. Albright, civil engineer, will be in charge of all the grading, walks and roads, etc.

Plans and specifications may be seen at 1420 North Eighth street, where sub contractors bids are now being received by J. Massey on fifteen pairs of dwelling houses at Lansdowne, Del. Co. These are of buff brick and frame, with all modern comforts and conveniences in interior.

The Union Presbyterian Congregation that formerly owned the church at Thirteenth and Budd streets have bought a lot on Woodland avenue between Sixty-sixth and Sixty-sixth and one-half streets and back to Upland, on which they are to erect a chapel of frame work and subsequently a finer structure to cost about $20,000.

Estimates are being made on the double decked wharf to be erected at Arch street for the Phila. & Reading R. R. It will be similar in construction to those in use in Jersey City, 70 x 400 feet. Slag roof, galvanized iron work and wood. Another is to be erected at Chestnut street wharf, only a little different in dimensions. Plans are in office of Chief City Engineer Smedley.

The ordinances for a new line of street railway, to be known as the Southwestern Passenger Railway Company, has been before the Committee on Street Railways and referred to a sub-committee. Also a like ordinance for the Northwestern & Merion Passenger Railway Company which provides for tracks on Oxford street, also Thirty-third street and other northwestern avenues and streets. Protests quite numerous have however been filed against the latter.

Contractor Ames, Bourse Building, has a contract from J. C. Newsom, 1001 Chestnut street, to build a residence at National City, N. J. It will be of stone and brick, 25 x 50 feet, two stories high. Same architect has plans on board for a church to be erected on Lehigh avenue in this city. Details later.

Also drawings for a large operation of dwellings at Woodland avenue and Fifty-eighth street. These will be 16 x 56 feet, two stories high, and all conveniences in interior.

Lewis Havens, contractor, Girard Building, will build the playhouse for children in Fairmount Park, having received the contract from James H. Windrim, the architect. This work has been noted in full previously. It has not been definitely settled when the estimates for the great memorial arch to be erected under the will of Richard Smith will be asked for, owing to the near approach of winter and minor details which must be arranged. Bids have been made on the stone work and for material only, but are of a varied nature, and running from $200,000 to $400,000. This is owing to the peculiarity of specifications for certain shapes or sizes, which are out of the ordinary mode of cutting and the transportation of the same.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 3 1897

Obituary.

On Sunday last, at Overbrook, Mr. Philip J. Walsh, Jr., after a prolonged illness. Mr. Walsh was only 25 years of age. At the death of his father, over four years ago, he entered into an active business career, and by his affable manners made a host of warm business friends. He was a bright, intellectual young man who had gained much from foreign travel and experience. He was an only son and was deeply devoted to his mother and sisters. Mr. Walsh leaves a wife, the daughter of Mr. Geo. A. Huhn, of the firm of Glendenning & Huhn, bankers and brokers, of this city.

It is just 55½ miles by the Philadelphia and Reading Railway from Camden to Atlantic City, and the running time as per the schedule for last July and August was fifty-two minutes. The actual running time as per the published statement issued by General Passenger Agent Weeks was, in July, between 46½ and 50 minutes, and in August between 46½ and 49 minutes. At no time did train number 25, which left Camden daily at 3.45 P. M., take longer than 50 minutes to make the trip, while one of the trips was made in 46½ minutes. In other words, the trip which was made in 46½ minutes was at the rate of speed of 71.6 miles per hour, while the slowest trip was at the rate of 66.6 miles per hour. The trains consisted of five and six cars, and carried as high as 370 passengers. The engine is known as 1027. It was run daily, and was made by the Baldwin Locomotive works. This performance has never been equalled either in this country or in Europe, as the record shows that for the 52 days the train ran, from July 2d to August 31st, the average time consumed to make the run was 48 minutes, equivalent to a uniform rate of speed, from start to stop, of 69 miles per hour.

Ogontz Park.

The taste for suburban residences of modest proportions is a growing one, as the result of a desire on the part of business men to escape as much as possible from the noise and hurly-burly of city life. The part that the noise from the rattling wheels of passing vehicles plays upon the nerves of those whose business cares have already taxed them to the utmost, and who know the value of country quiet as an auxiliary to a night of refreshing sleep, is of such importance as to justify, in many instances, every effort to escape it.

It is this shrewd recognition of the constant drain upon the vital force of human nature that has prompted Mr. William L. Elkins and Mr. William T. B. Roberts to give so much attention to the development of suburban properties within easy reach of the city's business centre. Willow Grove Park bears evidence of their handiwork, in conjunction with the services of Civil Engineer Chester E. Albright, in making garden spots out of the farm land and beautiful villas where Nature offers an opportunity.

The old Richardson farm of 45 acres, at Ogontz, has been purchased by Mr. Wm. L. Elkins, and will be developed by Mr. Wm. T. B. Roberts, and, under the euphonious name of Ogontz Park, it will soon be transformed into one of the most beautiful spots around Philadelphia.

The streets are to be graded, paved and curbed; four-foot cement sidewalks will be laid; sewers are to be built, and water and electric lights will complete the bill for necessities, which will give the residents of Ogontz Park all the advantages of city life, without its dirt, noise and confusion. A large force of men are now at work, and the owners expect to have this tract ready for occupancy for houses in early Spring, and will be ready for sale from plans in about two weeks.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Contractor E. H. Starts will at once remodel the interior of the public school on Haines street east of Germantown avenue.

Wm. R. Dougherty, contractor, 16½ Sansom street, will rebuild the burned portion of the R. C. Church St. Philips de Neri, at Queen street near Third.

Hiram A. Miller will erect at once sixteen dwellings 15 x 48 feet, two stories, west side of Sydenham street, south of Butler. Brick with stone trimmings and modern comforts.

Buck & Gallagher, N. W. cor. Ninth and Wolf streets, have been awarded the contract for all out stone work on the German Lutheran Zion's Church, Corner of Sixth and Jackson streets, Wilmington, Del.

Joseph Bird, contractor, will at once begin the erection of a two story brick addition to W. F. Read's factory at the northeast corner of Jackson and Iseminger streets, to be 39 x 71 ft., of brick and stone construction.

On the 31st inst. fire destroyed almost the entire four story structure, 723 Chestnut street, occupied by Wells, Fargo & Co., and other firms. The building will be rebuilt as soon as the owner, Henry C. Lea, can arrange details.

F. L. Horner & Son, 703 Jayne street, is taking estimates on two houses to be erected at Abington, Pa., for the Presbyterian Church of that place. Brick, stone and frame, three stories high and all the latest comforts introduced.

On the 27th inst. fire destroyed quite a large block of houses and one public hall known as Winner's. Among the damaged is Rankin's store, Dalton's house, Hartnett's and other minor damage. Most of these are to be repaired and rebuilt at once.

Fire destroyed almost entirely the structure 731 Arch street, and the damage is estimated at about $10,000. At the hour of going to press nothing definite could be learned, but it is indicated that rebuilding will be done at once by the owners.

John A. Jackson, builder, will at once start the erection of seventy-four dwellings in Paschallville, West Philadelphia. Ex-Postmaster Corson will have the contract in general. Sub-contracts for the plumbing and stonework have been let. All the latest conveniences will be introduced on interior.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Harveyville, Chester county, James Gallagher will erect a dwelling.

—At Sharon, Mercer county, it is said that Pittsburgh capitalists will erect an opera house to cost about $50,000.

—At Downingtown, Chester county, Mr. Thomas E. Parke has bought a lot from Rev. Benjamin Phelps for $800

—At East Bradford, Chester county, the barn of John E. Baldwin will be rebuilt. The new structure will be one of the finest in the neighborhood.

—At Coatesville, Chester county, Richard W. Shrack is erecting four three-story brick dwellings on Chestnut street. The estimated cost is $10,500.

—It is reported that a project is on foot to extend the trolley system, which has been built from South Bethlehem to Hellertown, to Quakertown.

—At Overbrook, Montgomery county, Mr. Milton W. Young will erect two two-story brick dwellings on the west side of Sixty-first street, north of Master street.

—At Mount Gretna, Lancaster county, it is reported that steps will be taken to put in a system of sewerage at the Pennsylvania Chautauqua grounds. A preliminary survey has been made by James H. Fuertes, civil and sanitary engineer, of New York city, and he will likely design the system of sewerage, the construction being in charge of George W. Hayes, civil engineer and city engineer of Lebanon, Pa.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

OFFICE OF THE LACKAWANNA TRANSPORTATION COMPANY.
OFFICE, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, 97 MICHIGAN STREET. EDWARD SHEA, Agent.

A careful and thorough investigation of your justly celebrated Fire-Proofing Paints resulted in our applying it on the exterior and interior of the large warehouse lately erected for the Lackawanna Transportation Co. on Shea's Dock in this city. We can say no more in support of our belief in its ability to prevent fire, and cheerfully recommend it to the public. In repainting our several large freight warehouses here and elsewhere, and in all new construction, we shall use only your valuable products. Yours truly, EDW. SHEA.

P. S.—By the use of your fire-proofing materials the Board of Fire Underwriters gave our buildings reduced rating.

This Little Picture

Represents the New Home of

The Land Title and Trust Co.

NOW IN COURSE OF ERECTION AT THE

S. W. Cor. Broad and Chestnut Sts.

And which will be ready for occupancy on or before May 1st next.

The site, which is conceded to be the most desirable corner in the city, is 90 feet on Broad Street and 100 feet on Chestnut Street. The building is fifteen stories high, and is being constructed of modern fire-proofing material throughout. The two lower stories are of granite, and the rest of the superstructure consists of buff brick and terra-cotta trimmings.

The Land Title and Trust Company will occupy the first and second floors, together with the basement; the Financial, Trust, Title and Real Estate Departments will be located on the first floor, while the Safe Deposit Department, with an almost endless variety of boxes, vaults etc., of the most approved type, is to be accommodated in the basement.

Referring to the vaults, which are to be introduced, and which are now being constructed by Messrs. Diebold & Co., of Cincinnati, an official of the Land Title Company emphasizes the statement that they will not only represent the highest stage of modern science in both design and mechanical construction, but they will, absolutely, defeat every application of electrical power, however great, as it will be impossible for the most expert electrician to obtain a single circuit.

THE PLANT, which contains an ABSTRACT OF EVERY DEED, MORTGAGE and SHERIFF SALE OF RECORD IN PHILADELPHIA SINCE 1682, together with its immense working force, will occupy the whole of the second story.

The Land Title and Trust Company was organized in 1885, with a capital of $1,000,000.00. During 1897 this was increased to $2,000,000.00, all of the increase having been taken at once, at a premium of $35.00 per share, or $350,000.00 in all, the increase being subject to call at any time.

A better estimate of the wonderful prosperity of the Company can, perhaps, be formed from a few figures clipped from its last statement, which was issued at the close of business on September 30th, 1897:

Capital Stock, full paid,	$1,000,000.00	Deposits,	- - -	$2,780,000.00
Surplus and Profits,	813,000.00	Plant,	- - -	275,000.00

Applications for offices in the new building are now being received at the Real Estate Office of the Company, at 608 Chestnut Street. A large number have already been rented to business firms, corporations and professional men.

The builder, Mr. Chas. McCaul, states that he expects to have all of the offices which are to be rented ready for occupants soon after January 1st, next.

The following embraces the Officers and Directors of the Company, with whom the management of its business is intrusted:

WILLIAM R. NICHOLSON, President.

ALBERT D. FELL, Sec'y and Treas.

ALBERT A. OUTERBRIDGE, Trust Officer.

This will Interest Every Builder

RECONSTRUCTING and enlarging the Snellenburg Stores, at Market and Twelfth Sts, have been going on rapidly, according to the plans prepared by Architect Windrim for the Girard Estate, owners of the properties.

Many hundreds of operatives are at work, under Messrs. Doyle & Doak, the well-known contractors, and some idea of the immensity of the operations may be gained from an inspection of the interior of the corner properties, to which the present alterations are confined just now.

One open sweep meets the eye, with snowy-white ceilings, supported by massive pillars. Outlines of the grand staircases are already distinguished. These stairways will be a revelation to Philadelphians with the combination of Mexican Onyx, Wrought Iron and Burnished Brass, of which they will be built. They will be novel and beautiful in the extreme. Back of the two stairways eight express passenger elevators will run, each with a capacity of at least twenty passengers; in addition there will be three large freight elevators. Absolutely safe fire-escapes form another good feature of the new buildings. A brick fire-proof shaft communicates with each floor by means of iron balconies on the outside, thus rendering loss of life apparently impossible.

The completed buildings will comprise Nos. 1120, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 Market Street, and the combined floor space will be over seven acres. The new foundations for the iron columns above referred to extend sixteen feet below the foundation level of the original buildings, thus making the new store one of the safest as well as one of the most beautiful edifices in the city.

THE accompanying sketch shows what has been done, and what will be done.

But you know how it is—delays will arise. And they put back the completion of our doubled buildings for many a day.

ONE CAUSE—We couldn't get immediate possession of the lower floors of one of our properties. This threw the contractors back—apart from other reasons.

But we've got a doubled stock, prepared in anticipation of doubled space and better times. And, in order to sell it—in order to move most of it before January—we've reduced all clothing and other merchandise far below usual Snellenburg Saving Prices.

For instance:

All-Wool Suits and Overcoats

For All Sorts and Shapes of Men

The true reductions in price are as follows:

All grades of usual $10.00 Snellenburg value are now	- $7.50
All grades of usual $12.00 Snellenburg value are now	- $8.50
All grades of usual $15.00 Snellenburg value are now	- $10.00
All grades of usual $18.00 Snellenburg value are now	- $12.00

The best of all the above are the $18.00 Worsteds Suits and the $18.00 Kersey Overcoats—which offer $24.00 "dealer" value and which are now marked at $12.00

Clothing for the Boys, Hats, Furnishings, Shoes (only at the Market Street Store). Bicycles at $29.50 (guaranteed).

Cycle Clothing—Cardigan Knit Jackets, etc. All at prices reduced so much as to insure a speedy clearance.

Architect Notes.

James Davis, architect, Millville, N. J., is engaged on plans for a fine residence to be erected at National Park, N. J. It will be of stone and brick, hot air heat, slate roof, electric work and best plumbing, etc.

Dull & Peterson, architects, 1110 Walnut street, have completed plans for a factory building to be erected at Paschalville, for private parties. It will be three stories high, brick, stone and iron, slag roof, galvanized cornices, cement work; steam to be introduced for power and heat.

Dull & Peterson, architects, 1110 Walnut street, have completed plans for a pair of handsome houses to be erected at Wyncote, Pa., by Mr. William Webber of that place. These are to be of stone first story, and frame above, slate roofing, electric work, steam heat, tile and fancy wood work and best of comforts in interior. Cost about $8000 each.

J. E. Allison, architect, 58 Ninth street, Pittsburg, Pa., has awarded a contract for a $11,000 residence for Geo. S. Goodwin of E. Liverpool, Ohio, to Robert Hall of that place. They have also made plans for a residence for R. G. Scott, at Vandergrift, Pa., and a store building at same place for C. C. Wallahour, Esq. Also two colonial dwellings, frame, at Bellevue, Pa., for John A. Strouse and Mrs. Chas. P. Bingham.

It is intended to push forward the construction of the new Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, which will be located upon a lot at the southwest corner of Thirty-fourth and Chestnut streets. Messrs. Cope & Stewardson, 320-4 Walnut street, are the architects, and are now preparing the detail plans and specifications. A full description of the structure has been published in these columns previously. The cost approximates $300,000.

THE BUILDING SEASON OF 1897

OUR REGULAR REPORT OF BUILDING OPERATIONS

AND TRANSFERS OF REAL ESTATE FROM

JANUARY 1 to OCTOBER 31, INCLUSIVE

6493 New Buildings of all kinds erected and in course of erection, representing an investment of $21,473,043, not including the cost of the land.

A decrease of only 195 new buildings from the number erected during the same months of last year, but the investment is $389,457 less.

4695 alterations and additions, costing $7,042,500, an increase in the number of these improvements of 533 and also an increase in the expenditure of $799,500.

$28,515,543 is the grand total of expenditure thus far this year for all kinds of building improvements against $28,105,500 for the same months of last year, an increase of $410,043.

The auspices under which our report is made are not very encouraging for the immediate future, either for real estate or for general business. There are several features in the present conditions that are not altogether wholesome, and until these are changed, no considerable improvement can be expected.

The most important of these is the absence of a proper demand for money to be used in manufactures and large business enterprises.

If a healthful, vigorous business sentiment dominated the situation, money would not go begging for investment at nominal rates of interest, while an inconvertible necessity existed on the other hand among the smaller or moderate commercial and manufacturing interests. Of course, gilt edged commercial paper, like gilt edged securities, seldom fails in reaching the golden level, but this conservatism of lenders is making hard lines for those of limited capital, who, owing to increased necessities and bad collections, need help more than ever. There are exceptional cases where banks, whose officers, recognizing the business integrity and worthiness of customers, honestly try to be both just and reasonable in the distribution of their favors; but conservatism as a rule has become so strong that collateral loans usurp attention even to an arbitrary extent, so much so, in fact, that banks have largely entered the domain of the Trust Companies, which are not permitted to discount commercial paper.

It is useless to argue that it is not so, for at present it is a subject of serious complaint in Trust Company circles.

This fact is indicative of two things: first, that there is a dearth of such commercial paper as the banks prefer because there is an absence of business necessity; second, the presence of a superabundance of idle money, necessitating considerable effort to keep up the average earning power of these institutions. If this superabundance did not exist, the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of nearly fifty-eight millions of dollars by the Union Pacific Railroad syndicate to pay the government's claim would have caused a monetary panic, while in fact it has not made a ripple.

This enormous sum is not to be again widely diffused in commercial or financial circles; it is to go to the vaults of the United States Treasury, there to remain until needed to meet legislative appropriations. In the face of these facts can it be argued that business has reached anything like normal conditions?

Iron, which for years has been regarded as the weather vane of prosperity, has been guilty of many vagaries, the demand having increased to such an extent in some cases that orders cannot be filled promptly, yet prices have failed to hold, and this has caused considerable comment as well as astonishment. Competition is hot, and a desire to sell, aggravated by prolonged idleness, is the cause; but if the demand was truly what it is represented to be, should prices not harden?

To promise better conditions for real estate while financial and business relations remain unadjusted is sheer sophistry. When business men require big money for large purposes and the banks are willing to lend it on commercial paper, this will herald the advent of a new era for real estate; for buyers come from the hives of industry. Whether the worker is from the ranks of the shrewd professional or business men or those of sturdy wage earners, it makes no difference except as to quality, as it is the increment from labor that pays for the homes when buyers are found.

There is a strong feeling, however, that this adjustment will soon take place and that by early Spring there will be such an improvement in business conditions generally that real estate will become more active.

Those who should know assert that the outlook for next year is very good, but business in the meantime cannot be forced without sacrifice, for while there are plenty to snap up bargains this reflects nothing as to conditions.

Those who are anticipating a heavy shrinkage in values will be disappointed, for while business is dull there is no disposition to sacrifice when it can be avoided.

Good mortgages are scarce, and fully one-third of those offered are rejected even at good interest, not through a want of confidence, however, but in such cases too much is wanted to leave the property a first class security. Such offers are rejected solely on business principles, notwithstanding the superabundance of money and a keen desire to locate it permanently.

There is no evidence that money will harden until its field for usefulness has materially broadened; the rate is consequently largely controlled by the quality of the risk. One factor is the absence of speculation. Stocks at present seem to be bought largely for investment. This, of course, cuts off a great use for money among the brokers, who are heavy borrowers when speculation is strong.

Fall collections will stimulate mercantile business and the symptoms for next year are said to be good. The trouble is, people have expected too much in the way of improved conditions for the short time that has elapsed since the adoption of the new tariff. As time assuages grief, so also it strengthens the form of the tottering invalid on his road to health and vigor.

The Trust Companies are not disposed to back the operative buildings to the same extent as heretofore, the feeling being that it is better to wait until there is a better demand for real estate. Operators, with a liberal share of their own capital to invest in their operations in a good locality and which bear the probability of success, will find all the financial help they may require.

The two-story dwellings are filling rapidly, and in good neighborhoods the demand is even greater than the supply. Considerable demand from strangers has also manifested itself lately for central residences, renting for from $5 to $40 per month. This, it is claimed, is a result of the Trade League's grand work in calling the attention of outsiders to the many advantages Philadelphia possesses over other large cities, but considerable surprise has been expressed by these people at the entire absence of modest flats, which are plentiful in other cities. This question merits the investigation of capitalists.

There is no demand for manufacturing sites, the inquiry, which was encouraging after the Presidential election, was followed by apathy. There is, however, considerable talk among the textile manufacturers about enlarging their plants; most of them are busy, wool workers particularly so.

Business properties in some sections cannot be rented, and while there is some inquiry for stores, there is fear that there is not enough business to justify the rent.

Old properties are paying the usual penalty, for tenants are leaving for new, and a considerable drop in the rental is necessary to hold tenants at all, while new dwellings are able to maintain rents fairly well.

The many absurdities of public gossip as to the number of vacant houses in Philadelphia is amusing.

The quid-nuncs have done so much asserting that very many estimable people have accepted their statements as authority. It has even gone the rounds of sea-shore gossip that there were sixty thousand vacant houses, and the absurdity of the statement has been seriously compounded through the childish credulity of those who have unthinkingly accepted it. Any school boy should know that the number represents comfortable dwelling accommodations for 300,000 people, a number greater than the population of Cincinnati at the last census, with 269,309, Cleveland with 261,540, New Orleans with 241,995.

There is small demand for ground for large plants of any kind. The sites for the new work now in hand have been owned for some time, a few factories will be enlarged, but very few new ones are contemplated.

About 40 per cent. of the architects are fairly busy, many of them on large work that is only prospective. There are only two large office buildings on the carpet for next year, but a few churches and schools or other large buildings, except those already reported, which include the De Lancy private school, two public schools up-town, Law School and Botanical Buildings for the University, a large Exposition Building to be permanently located on the Schuylkill in the vicinity of South street. The Smith Memorial Building and Arch, the U. S. Mint, Wharves on the Delaware, the widening of Broadway avenue, and the School Houses, Library Building, provided for by the new loan.

The amount of new work accomplished this year is surprising, notwithstanding the fact that renewed business activity justified expectations for greater results, 6,493 new buildings for ten months of the year, after so many years of uninterrupted building, is a record even more creditable than the 10,250 that were erected during the whole of the year 1890.

Of the number, 4802 are two-story dwellings, an increase of 65. The First Ward this year shows the enormous increase of 220; the Nineteenth, 31; the Twentieth, 11; the Twenty-second, 64; the Twenty-third, 30; the Twenty-seventh, 174; the Twenty-ninth, 107; the Thirty-fourth, 62. It will be seen that the new Thirty-eighth Ward, which was cut from the Twenty-eighth on November 13, 1896, and which embraces all of the territory north of Lehigh Avenue, is responsible for 95 of the two-story dwellings erected this year. The losses as compared with last year's report are Fourteenth Ward, 4; Sixteenth, 5; Seventeenth, 10; Eighteenth, 64; Twenty-first, 4; Twenty-fourth, 203; Twenty-fifth, 50; Twenty-sixth, 132; Twenty-eighth, 136; Thirtieth, 31; Thirty-first, 36; Thirty-third, 224; Thirty-fifth, 10; Thirty-sixth, 198; Thirty-seventh, 112. It will be noticed that wards which have heretofore commanded a front place for their yearly construction of this class of buildings, show a serious falling off this year. West Philadelphia in this year's record shows a wonderful increase. Although the Twenty-fourth Ward has lost 203, the Twenty-seventh, with its gain of 174, and the Thirty-fourth, with its large increase of 600, makes a total gain of 573 for West Philadelphia over the same months of last year. Another important item in connection with two-story dwellings is the fact that a greater number of these have been built this year than during the same months of any year since 1890.

The loss in three-story dwellings this year is 240. The Seventeenth Ward lost 18, Eighteenth 9, Twenty-first 27, Twenty-second 185, Twenty-third 24, Twenty-fifth 4, Twenty-eighth 149, Thirty-first 3, Thirty-second 26, Thirty-fourth 44, and the Thirty-sixth 62. The wards which show a gain are First 7, Second 7, Third 14, Fifth 3, Seventh 2, Eighth 10, Thirteenth 2, Sixteenth 2, Twentieth 15, Twenty-first 60, Twenty-sixth 5, Twenty-seventh 48, Twenty-ninth 4, Thirtieth 3, Thirty-third 25, Thirty-fifth 7, Thirty-seventh 46. West Philadelphia it will be seen also shows a net gain in these buildings of 64, for while the Thirty-fourth ward loses 44, the Twenty-fourth gains 60 and the Twenty-seventh 48.

Four-story dwellings lose 4 in number and $124,900 in the investment.

Office buildings, over two stories, this year are 4 less, but the investment is only $189,300 less than last year.

By a reference to our table of industrial buildings erected since 1890, given below, it will be seen that notwithstanding the drastic business conditions of 1897 there was during that year considerable increase among several of the specialties enumerated. Dye and Dry Houses showed an increase of 1 over 1895, Engine and Boiler Houses 10, Breweries and Bottling Houses 2, but in no single instance this year, notwithstanding the improvement in business, is there an increase except in stores (not stores and dwellings), eighty-four industrial buildings this year against 100 for the same months last year, and the investment is $277,200 less.

Warehouses lose 5 in number and $273,100 in the investments, Dye and Dry Houses—loss $7000, Factories and Mills 4—loss $245,600, Engine and Boiler Houses 9—loss $7200, Breweries and Bottling Houses 2—loss $65,500, Foundries and Shops 9—loss $10,100. Stores (not stores and dwellings) show a gain of 14 in number and a gain in investment of $265,300.

Warehouses have since 1890 shown remarkable strength until the present year, and the record for factories and mills has been even better. This feature of the Industrials merits considerable watching, for when it appears that there has been a serious falling off yearly of this kind of construction work, it means that the arteries have been tapped through some cause and the very life-blood of the city's prosperity is escaping.

Foundries and shops are less than any year since 1890. The falling off in 1896 was serious enough, but a loss of fifty per cent. compared with that year is extremely discouraging.

Last year there were no School Houses erected during the period now under comparison; this year we have six, costing $345,743.

Stables this year are 85 in number and their cost is $127,590. Last year there were 71, costing $105,200. It would seem from this that the "Bike" is losing its influence as inimical to stable building. There is really more in this slight gain in stable building than would appear on the surface, for the loss in 1895 for the same months of the previous year was 152 in the number of stables, and a loss in the investment of $382,000, and in 1896, when compared with 1895, the loss was 85 new buildings and $127,590 in the investments. This yearly loss has been a serious factor in the interests of both labor and material, not considering other collateral interests, such as carriages, harness, hay and feed, and an army of employees, all of whom have suffered through the popularity of the bicycle.

Churches this year are 6, costing $178,000; last year there were 8, costing $255,000, a loss in these of $77,000.

Miscellaneous buildings are 44, against 59 last year, but the investment this year is $662,100 greater. Included in these are four Halls, costing respectively $25,000, $6000, $30,000 and $9000. Two homes costing $50,000 each, four hospitals at $18,000, $8000, $18,000 and $30,000. Five apartment houses $15,000, $110,000, $90,000, $125,000 and $17,000. Banks, $30,000 and $30,000. Museums, $33,000 and $500,000. Infirmary $115,000, Philadelphia Saving Fund $150,000, chapels $8000, $6000, $7000, $8000, $48,000 and $12,000. Asylum for the Blind $125,000, Friends' School $10,000, Parish buildings $10,000, $12,000, $10,000, and a few other buildings.

Alterations and additions express a wholesome shaking up of the owners of old properties. This is just as it should be, and were it not for the wide swath the more inviting and infinitely more attractive new buildings cut as competitors in the race for tenants, it is doubtful if 25 per cent. of the present expenditures in these improvements could have been recorded, 465 alterations and additions, costing $7,042,500, play an important part in this year's work.

The transfers of real estate this year fall off 8.26, but the value is $1,480,145.43 greater than those of last year. The average value of the transfers this year is $6041.85, while last year it was $5472.79, while in 1895 it was $6532.65, in 1894 $4956.88, and in 1893 $3718.78.

The mortgage incumbrance on the properties transferred this year amounts to $28,081,162.78, or 39.2 per cent. In 1896 it was 34.3, in 1895 29.8 and in 1894 28.6.

The ground rents this year amount to $1,003,149.33. This on a 6 per cent. basis represents a further incumbrance of $16,719,155.50, or 26.1 per cent. Hence the total incumbrance on the transfers this year amounts to 65.3 per cent.; last year it was 52.3.

Auction sales were $1,378,208.99, or $1,109,988.27 less than last year's; this is a falling off of less than half. This falling off in the sales of real estate at auction can only be accounted for by a refusal of owners to accept the bids offered. Those sales which were effected represent in large part the settling of estates and financial embarrassment of a number who were compelled to accept the best price obtainable.

There is a hopeful feeling among all classes as to business of all kinds for next year. In our efforts to faithfully serve our masters, we have looked for, as we expected to find, adverse opinions based on logical deductions, but we have not discovered a single person who does not feel hopeful. Heavy orders have been booked, and there are instances where concerns for the first time in three years have advertised for mechanics, after having called in all of their old force.

It is to be hoped that the collection of accounts will greatly improve, as sore distress is caused through the indifference or inability of creditors.

The manhood is still here and its ability to perform great things has been too effectually demonstrated in the past to justify a single doubt as to the future.

The following table shows the number of new buildings erected during each month of the building season of 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905 and 1906, exclusive of alterations and additions.

Supplee Bros., builders, will at an early day start an operation of 20 dwellings on Fifty-third street below Girard avenue, and ten others on Wilton avenue below Girard. These are to be of Pompeian brick, and stone trimmings, with best conveniences on interior.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, is taking estimates for the office fixtures and fittings of the New Land and Title Trust Co. Building at the southwest corner Broad and Chestnut streets. These are to be of various woods, iron and brass grille work, etc.

Alexander Cowan, the well-known downtown builder, is to start at once 26 two-story dwellings on Wilder between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets and two others at the respective corners of same streets, fitted up as stores, all to be of brick with stone facings and modern conveniences on the interior.

Contractors Supplee Bros., 926 South Twelfth street, are asking bids for twenty-two dwellings, to be erected at Girard avenue and Fifty-third street, and ten others at Girard avenue and Wilton street, all to be of buff and fancy brick, hot air heat, plumbing, slag roof, ranges and tile work, etc.

Streeter & Scheaffer, contractors, Third and Rimer streets, are receiving estimates upon quite a large operation of houses to be erected at Eleventh and McClellan streets and Third and American streets. These are to be of press and fancy-colored brick, stone facings and modern conveniences on interiors.

E. M. Culbertson & Co., 2324-30 Philadelphia street, have received the contracts for all stair work on the following: 40 three-story dwellings at Forty-ninth and Cedar avenue, for Mr. John Schall; Fidelity Storage Warehouse, 1511 Market street; three dwellings for J. McCauley's Sons, at Vienna and Girard avenues; one three-story dwelling at Twenty-ninth and Dauphin streets; and one two-story dwelling on Twenty-eighth street above Susquehanna avenue for Mr. Louis Paul.

The Deer Park Driving Club have purchased grounds upon the farm of William Diston, north of Chestnut Hill three miles, and will improve this site by altering the house now there into a fine club-house, and grading the spaces for a course, also a tennis-court, golf links and other club uses. George E. Joslyn, a landscape gardener will lay out and ornament the grounds by flowers, paths, etc. Among the members are J. Lower Welsh, E. T. Stotesberry, Geo. Willing and Chas. Newhall.

The alterations now under way at the stores of N. Snellenburg & Co., at Twelfth and Market streets, involve a reconstruction of the interior of the whole of the six buildings. The work on three of these is now nearing completion. As soon as it is finished the stock and fixtures of the firm will be removed to the completed section, when work will be immediately started on the remainder. The task of remodeling these six immense buildings is more difficult than the average person would suppose. The brick walls extending from foundation to roof had to be removed and in their stead a forest of iron columns, secured on a foundation of granite, was substituted. Iron trusses had to be introduced in order that a proper regard for the weight of goods the building must carry might be observed, for in such a manufacturing plant, embracing, as it does, factory, warehouse, exhibition floors for the wholesale and sales rooms for the retail, the weight is enormous. The work is being done under the supervision of Architect Windrim, while Messrs. Doyle & Doak are the contractors. When these alterations are completed the six stores will embrace an area of unbroken (except by the iron columns) floor space greater than can be found in any similar business establishment in the country.

Peter McCurdy, contractor, will at once begin the erection of a new structure for the Snyder Avenue Congregational Church on north side of Snyder avenue and west of Second street. To be of brick, one story high, 42 x 62 feet in area, hot air and gas fittings, with seating capacity of 400 persons.

A deal in real estate has just been consummated in Brooklyn, N. Y., by the purchase of a tract of land owned by the West Brooklyn Improvement Company, composed of Philadelphia capitalists, including W. Frederick Snyder, Jay Cook, John L. Kates and others, who have sold their holdings to ex-Senator W. H. Reynolds and a syndicate of investors in that city. The land extends from Fort Hamilton and New Utrecht avenue on the north, to Eighteenth avenue on the south, and from Fortieth to Sixty-sixth street east and west, and has, besides its value as a suburban site, quite extensive improvements in streets and railway service, etc. It is the intention of the purchasers to at once further improve the land by erection of a large number of houses upon separate pieces of ground with beautiful surroundings. It has proved a valuable investment and will be further enhanced in the future.

Wm. F. Harrity, President of the Equitable Trust Company, located in the Betz Building, in this city, has bought from Haverford College a large tract of land owned formerly by the estate of Jacob R. Jones. The purchase has been made in the interest of a syndicate of capitalists represented by the purchaser, who will improve the land by the erection of a number of finely equipped homes. The ground is bounded by Sixty-third, 1000 feet front, 125 feet deep, running north from Lansdowne avenue to Jefferson street; also the block bounded by Lansdowne avenue, Jefferson street, Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth streets, 1000 feet front on Sixty-third street, and depth of 500 feet on the avenue above-named. The location is one of the most commanding among the suburban sites in the vicinity of the built-up portion of West Philadelphia, and will at once take a leading position as a home retreat.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Shamokin, Northumberland county, it is probable that Shamokin street will be paved. M. C. Farrow can give information.

—At Perkasie, Bucks county, D. H. Myers is making arrangements for the erection of twelve dwellings. The Perkasie Building Association is erecting ten dwellings.

Architect Notes.

James Cochran, architect, 1017 Chestnut street, is making plans for a residence to be erected at Ashbourne, Pa. It will be stone, three stories high, and interior in hard-wood with all the latest improvements in interior.

Wilson R. Ker, architect, 728 Walnut street, has made plans for and is taking estimates on twenty houses to be erected at Fifty-ninth and Ashland avenue. All to be of fine pressed fancy brick, stone facings, and best interior comforts.

Isaac Purcell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, is at work on detail drawings for a church building at Twelfth and Lehigh avenue, to be grey-stone, one story high, slate roof, truss-work, stained and plain glass, steam heat, electric work, etc.

Architect H. S. Bair, of the Bureau of Public Safety, Pittsburg, Pa., has made plans for a stable building to be erected on Franktown avenue for use of Fire Department. It will be fitted with all the improvements for the purpose of electric work, steam heat, etc.

Geo. M. Lovett, architect, 424 Walnut street, has made plans for a house at Torredale, Pa. It will be stone, three stories high, slate roof, steam heat, plain and leaded glass and all conveniences, etc. Also plans for alteration and addition to a church in Delaware, to be stone and frame.

Engineers Haupt & Franklin, 18 South Broad street, have plans made for eleven houses to be erected at Llanerch, Delaware county, Pa. These will be of brick, light-colored stone for trimming, and hot air heating, electric work, and modern comfort in interior. Lewis Havens, contractor, Girard Building, and others are estimating on the work.

Geo. Krueger, architect, Johnstown, Pa., has completed plans for the G. Bantly Building, intended for hardware store, 64 x 128 feet, three stories high, brick and stone construction. Building to be erected in Johnstown, Pa., also plans for a Catholic church for Pottan, Pa., Rev. Isidor, O. S. B., pastor. Size 58 x 96 feet, brick structure. Cost about $15,000.

David Knickerbacker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has plans on boards for estimates for a stable at Chestnut Hill for Mr. Jenkins' of that place. It will be two stories high, of stone or brick, 20 x 60 feet. The building will contain steam heat, electric wiring, cement floors, improved stalls, guards and galvanized work, slate and tin roofing.

The Supreme Court, on the 10th inst., dismissed the appeal of architects against the action of the State Capitol Commission in selecting an architect for the structure to be erected at Harrisburg, Pa. The Court sat at Pittsburg, Pa., and affirmed the action of the court below in giving to the Commission full and absolute control over the matter as provided in the act of the Legislature.

Edwin F. Bertolette, architect, Heed Building, 1215 Filbert street, is engaged on plans for erection of a house at Chester, Pa., to be of stone, four stories high, and furnished in interior with every convenience. It will be 38 x 60 feet in area. Estimates are being made on the work. Same architect is taking figures on a building at Phoenixville, Pa., brick and stone, 33 x 42 feet, and furnished with all modern comforts. Also plans for a house for J. H. Maxwell, Pottstown, Pa. The work includes bays, new porches, stairways and partitions, etc.

Stearns & Castor, architects, formerly of the Bourse Building, are now located in a fine suite of offices in the Stephen Girard office building, and are engaged on a set of plans for a new church for the Allegheny Avenue Baptist Church, Frankford. It will be of stone, one story and basement, and will be fitted handsomely throughout. The details will be given in a later issue of this journal. Same architects have orders for quite a number of pieces of work, some of which cannot be started before the spring of 1898; others as soon as details can be arranged.

Carere & Hastings, architects, 44 Broadway, New York, have won in competition drawings for the Public Library Building to be on the site of the Forty-second street reservoir in that city. The structure will be three stories and basement, of light colored stone, to be selected; three grand entrances will be provided and the interior will be provided with steam heat, electric work, the finest sanitary plumbing and ventilation, elevators and lift for freight, offices for all officials, general private reading rooms. Details will be worked up at once, and work will begin at an early date.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Girard Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, have made plans for the new building of the Fourth Presbyterian congregation, to be located at Fourth and Kensington avenue. The structure will be broken stone work, one story, slate roof, with a handsome tower at one corner. The doors and windows will have leaded and stained glass interior in hard wood, steam heat, electric work, and every modern comfort and convenience for church work. Estimates are now being made in the office of Doyle & Doak, 133 South Fifteenth street, and other contractors.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have made plans for a store and office building to be erected on Lancaster Pike at Bryn Mawr, Pa. It will be 40 x 108 feet, three stories high, first floor will contain four stores 23 x 35 feet each, second about twelve finely equipped offices, whilst the third will be designed for a large hall for public purposes. The whole building heated by steam; electric appliances also. The design is Flemish and dark hard bricks will be used for two stories, and pebble dashed work above that. Same architects have plans for a two-and-one-half story house to be erected near Bryn Mawr for Helen Price Wilson. It will be 31 x 85 feet, and contain fourteen rooms. The structure will be fitted with extraordinary care as to general sanitary work, hot air heating, electric work, etc. Cost will be about $7,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Forty nice dwellings are about to be erected by Charles Fleckler on south side of Indiana avenue, west of Twenty-first street. Press brick, stone trimmings, and steps, with best comforts in interior.

An ordinance recently passed by Councils has now been made law by the signature of Mayor Warwick, which compels all open lots and grounds upon which building operations are in progress to be fenced in upon the sides which face a public highway. A fine of fifty dollars is the penalty for neglect to comply with these provisions, and will, it is understood, be enforced rigidly by the Department of Public Safety.

A movement is now on foot to raise funds for the purpose of erecting a fully equipped gymnasium at the University of Pennsylvania. A committee has been appointed for the purpose, with Dr. J. William White as chairman. It is estimated that $200,000 will be needed for the structure. The veterinary department is also to have a new building attached at an early date. This will be a one-story structure and contain separate apartments for animals in which to study their various diseases.

M. F. Lawler, contractor, Marshall and Walnut streets, Norristown, Pa., is making estimates on two stores to be erected in Bridgeport, just across the river from above-named town. They are to be of brick and stone, 18 x 50 feet, and three stories high. Interiors to have electric work and all modern conveniences, etc. Sub-contractors are making offers as well. Same contractor is receiving estimates on an office and stable building to be erected by himself in the town of Bridgeport, also two stories high, brick and stone, and containing all modern conveniences, etc.

The purchase of the northwest corner of Broad and Chestnut streets, owned by Augustus Heston, and bought by Nathan Crenshaw, real estate officer of the Girard Trust Company, indicates very plainly that another big building will soon occupy the site. The lot only measures 18 x 77 feet, and the fact that if the present structure is torn down it must recede five feet, points plainly to the necessity for additional ground both on Broad and on Chestnut streets for a building of a nature to possess any advantages for profitable investment. Adjoining is the property of H. G. Cochran estate, which is 34 x 77 feet, which would give a front and depth of 47 x 77 feet. Mr. Crenshaw at present declines to say for whom the investment has been made.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 17, 1897

It is to be hoped that the consolidation of the Bank of the Republic and the Fourth Street National does not mean that Mr. William H. Rhawn, the President of the former institution, intends to retire from active business life.

Mr. Rhawn has always filled a field of usefulness with marked integrity and business ability; he has a host of business friends, all of whom admire the man for his many sterling qualities and his warm personal interest in public questions of a municipal as well as of a national character.

As the President of the Bank of the Republic he displayed marked ability, and its merging with the Fourth Street National is only a business proposition, pure and simple.

MATERIAL men and contractors should bear in mind that in order to make a mechanic's lien hold, the book of original entry must show that the material and work sold and delivered were upon the credit of the building. The charge against the purchaser is not enough, for there is nothing in such an entry to specify the buildings for which the goods were intended in case suit is brought.

Special Winter Excursions to Old Point Comfort, Lakewood, etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has placed on sale at all its principal offices, winter excursion tickets to Old Point Comfort, Lakewood, Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent winter resorts in New Jersey and Virginia. These tickets are on sale at low rates with very liberal return limits. For full information as to routes, rates, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading agent, or address Edson J. Weeks, General Passenger Agent, Philadelphia.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A fountain to be erected upon the river drive in Fairmount Park will soon be provided with a site. It is under the provisions of the will of Rebecca D. Smith.

A charter has been obtained for the Dingley Manufacturing Company, of this city, with a capital of $200,000. It is proposed to manufacture only textile fabrics.

Thomas McVaugh, contractor, of Fox Chase, in this city, is receiving estimates on two houses to be erected at the same place, stone and brick, two stories high and modern conveniences.

Harry T. Saunders, contractor, 230 N. Twenty-second street, will erect on Ashton Court, in rear of his present place, an addition to his shop, 25 x 150 feet, which will contain all modern improvements.

It is understood that the Director of Public works will recommend the paving of Girard avenue from the bridge to Fortieth street, on the west. A good move under the new loan for a greatly traveled highway.

Fire destroyed the residence of Mrs. S. A. Gallagher, adjoining, at Wayne, Pa., on the 6th inst. These were very handsome structures, and the owners will no doubt rebuild.

Extensive additions will be made to the Eclipse Cement Blacking Company, 1238-44 Belmont avenue. These are in the nature of a building five stories high, and 40 x 40 feet brick and stone construction. Also an engine and boiler house.

The large and well fitted stable of Frank D. Weylman, rear of 1529 N. Broad street, was destroyed by fire on the 5th inst. Mr. Weylman intends to rebuild the structure at once, which was of stone and brick, and contained every convenience.

Milton Young, contractor, will at once begin the erection of eight fine stone houses, in pairs, on east side of Sixty-third street, between Woodbine avenue and City Line. All to be three stories high, and inferior to contain every comfort and convenience.

Marshall W. DeLong, 5428 Wayne avenue, Germantown, has bought the old drove yard tract on Lancaster avenue, east of 52d street, extending back to Marion avenue. The tract is 45½ feet on Lancaster avenue, with a depth of 186½ feet. Twelve stories of dwellings will be commenced as soon as the weather permits.

Kohl & Bros., contractors, Odd-Fellows Temple, Broad and Cherry streets, are receiving estimates on some additions to be made at the house of Henry Lewis, Wayne street, Germantown. The work has been noted previously in this journal. Plans by D. Knickerbocker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets.

Morris P. Wells & Co., contractors, N. E. corner Thirteenth and Walnut streets, are taking estimates on twenty-eight houses to be erected at Forty-second and Girard avenue after plans prepared by Angus S. Wade, architect, 1323 Chestnut street, all to be of fancy face brick, stone trimmings, hot-air heating, tin roofing, cement work, etc.

W. E. Steelman, builder, Forty-second street, south of Market street, is to at once start an operation of one hundred and twenty-eight dwellings on east side of Thirty-first street, from Huntingdon to Showaker street, and two intermediate streets between Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets. All to be of press brick, stone facings and good accommodations in interior.

It is expected that in conjunction with the construction of the new pier on the old Landell estate, near Shackamaxon and Laurel streets, a new sugar refinery will be built. Mr. J. C. Fernald, manager of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, at the old works, indicates that other improvements are contemplated beside the new wharves being constructed, as it is one of the best locations on the Delaware river front for the purpose indicated. At present the matter has not assumed a definite shape.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Llanerch, Delaware county, Mr. Crenshaw is receiving bids for the erection of eight dwellings on the West Chester pike.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

Architect Notes.

Chas. Hillman, architect, 50 South Fourth street, has on boards plans for alteration and addition to the residence of Mr. George Wood, at Wawa, Pa. These will be of stone, two stories high, 20 feet x 60 feet, and contain electric work and bells, stable fixtures, slate and tin roofing, also a carriage lift, etc.

Furness Evans & Co., architects, Provident Life building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, are receiving estimates on a new station for the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Morrisville, Pa. It will be iron frame, face brick and tile roof, 22 x 52 feet in area, steam heat, electric work, plumbing, plate glass windows, etc.

Seymour Davis, architect, 907 Walnut street, has made complete plans for a fine house at Atlantic City, for J. G. Walters, and will soon ask estimates for the work. Stone, brick and frame will be the materials used for the structure, interior steam heat, electric work, plate and leaded glass windows, and every modern accommodation.

Harold Gregory, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, is making plans for a handsome residence to be erected at Cynwyd, Pa., for Mr. A. K. Gregory, of the Reading Terminal, Philadelphia. It will be of stone and frame, 50 x 50 feet, three-stories high, slate roof, and interior fitted with electric work, hot air heat, hardwood finish, and all modern conveniences, etc.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 330-24 Walnut street, are engaged on the plans for the new Law Building for the University of Pennsylvania. Not much information can be given as to general details, but it will be a stone and brick structure, three or four stories high, slate roof, and contain on interior every up-to-date improvement. Noted previously, and when details are completed, will be fully described in these columns.

Thomas Stephen, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has on boards quite a lot of work for the coming months, among which may be noted a power plant for the Camden Curtain and Embroidery Company of that place, and includes pumps, elevators, piping and covering, etc. Estimates are being made also on the interior plumbing work of the Camden and Suburban R. R., including closets, pipes, drainage, etc. Other work noted as it may develop in detail.

Architects Robey and Ritcher, of Lebanon, Pa., have prepared plans and are now taking bids for remodeling the U. B. Mutual Aid Insurance building, to be used for city purposes. The interior has been laid out to accommodate all the city offices, is three-stories high, and basement to be fitted out and be used as a police station. The work will include jail cells, hard plaster, red oak finish, copper work, plumbing, electrical work and intercommunicating telephone system, tile work and an entirely new steam heating plant.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have given the contract for a house at Bryn Mawr to Samuel R. Hawes, contractor, Ardmore, Pa. This work was fully noted in architectural columns of this journal. Same architects have awarded A. T. Cooper, of this city, the contract to erect two dwellings and stores at Bala, Pa., for Theodore Campbell, of Overbrook, Pa.

Macey & Henderson, contractors, Heed Building, Filbert above Twelfth street, have been figuring on the new Casino building for Woodside Park, after plans by Dull & Peterson, architects, 1110 Walnut street. The structure is to be of iron, brick, stone and frame work, and adapted for theatrical performances as well as musical concerts. All comforts will be introduced in way of seating, steam heat, electric work, papier mache, decorations, plate and leaded glass, and the whole to be provided with best conveniences. The work must be done in time for an early season of 1898. Noted previously.

M. Silberstein, architect, 515 Pine street, having completed plans for a stone building to be erected at 4th and Bainbridge streets, has placed the drawings on boards of David Kenevesky, contractor, Second and Mountain streets, for estimate. It will be three stories high and basement, face brick, hot air heat, electric bells and general accommodations, etc., for dwelling purposes as well. Same architect has made plans for a tenement house on South Front street, for W. S. Finberg, to be of brick, three stories high and slag roof, all modern comforts on interior. Noted before in these columns.

Clinton, Russell & A. F. Leicht, architects, N. Y. City, associated with Brazier & Simpson, consulting engineer, 156 Broadway, have made plans for an office building to be erected at 32-34 Bradbury and 67-71 New street, in that city. The structure will be eighteen stories high, stone, brick and terra cotta, slate roof; the interior will contain elaborate office fittings, passenger elevators, electric work, plumbing, marble, tile and mosaic work upon all floors, electric plant, tubes, etc., etc. All modern conveniences will be introduced. Estimates now being made in offices of J. E. and A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street.

Joseph M. Huston, architect, Provident Life Building, Room 674, has completed all plans and details for the proposed office building to be erected on the site of the old Chambers Church, at Broad and Sansom streets, and placed the drawings on the boards of Contractors J. E. and A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, for estimate. The specifications call for a structure eighteen stories high, with a basement, to be of granite, brick, stone and terra cotta work, steel skeleton and absolutely fireproof in every particular, brick partition and floors, etc. Interior will contain quite a number of fine passenger elevators and lifts for freight, electric dynamos and appliances, iron grille work, tile marble and mosaic work, best system of sanitary plumbing and ventilation, cement work, concrete in small stone for foundations, with large cap engines and boilers of the most improved patterns will be introduced. Figures are now being made on the work with a view to pushing forward the construction at an early day. Mr. Huston will supervise the entire building of this great structure. Mr. Huston has also on boards for estimate, complete plans for an apartment house for Benjamin Teller & Bros., of this city, to be erected at 928 Locust street. This will be four stories high, of brick and stone, slate roof, the interior being fitted with all modern conveniences, etc.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth, above Chestnut street, are engaged on preliminary plans for a church, to be erected at Paulsboro, N. J., for the Presbyterian congregation at that place. It is to be of brick and stone, one story and basement, 40 feet x 70 feet, and contain all modern comforts and improvements. Also engaged on drawings for a number of houses to be erected in Frankford by the Land Improvement Company of that place. These are to be of stone and brick, three stories high, slate roofs, hot air and steam heating, electric wiring and every modern comfort.

Charles M. Robinson, architect, Altoona, Pa., has made plans for a Hebrew Temple for the Reformed Hebrew Congregation at the above place. The materials will be cut stone, slate roof, steam heat, plate and stained glass, cement work, hard plaster, plumbing, tin work, ventilating apparatus, galvanized iron, rolling shutters, fresco decoration, etc.; also plans for a frame church for the M. E. congregation, at New Millport, Pa., plate glass, hard plaster, shingles, furnace heat, tin work, hardware, etc. Also a stone church for the M. E. congregation of Roaring Springs, Pa., to be of cut and rough stone, slate roof, cement work, frescoing, stained glass, plumbing and tin work, ventilating apparatus, rolling shutters, hardware, etc. A stone church building for the First United Brethren congregation at Altoona, Pa., cut stone, steel structure, brick work, steam heat, plate glass, slate roof, plumbing and ventilation, galvanized iron work, water supply, hardware and painting, on the above. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 24, 1897

A CHARITY organization in New York has been investigating the cases of tenants who have been dispossessed for the non-payment of rent. The figures show an alarming condition of poverty and misery among the poor. It seems that the number of dispossessed notices varies with the size and population of the district.

In the district composed of the Seventh, Thirteenth and the Eleventh wards, for seven months, there were from 100 to 250 such notices issued weekly, and in the district composing the Tenth and Seventeenth wards, the notices served were quite as numerous.

A committee from this charity organization gave in its report the following statistics: Number of new cases, 2,606; number of tenants moved before our visit, 363; number of tenants visited first time, 2,118; number of tenants found in need of relief, 431; number of tenants found in need of time only, 454; number of tenants referred to the Charity Organization Society 14; number of tenants referred for relief to the U. H. C., 152; number of tenants referred for relief to the Association for the Improvement of the Condition of the Poor, 5; number of tenants referred to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, 15; number of tenants referred to other societies, 38; number of tenants relieved directly, 220.

This committee also urges more discrimination on the part of landlords and agents, and points out the vast difference between a sober and industrious family, out of work, and one which wastes its substance on the growler. It also recommends the weekly collection of rents, as it is much easier for the laborer to pay $1.50 or $2.00 out of his weekly wages than it is to pay the $6.00 or $8.00 for a month's rent, besides which the rent should be paid weekly, in advance. This, it is claimed, would have a vast influence in protecting the wives and children of the dissipated and improvident.

We are indebted to the Hart Cycle Co., agents for the celebrated Columbian bicycles, at 816 Arch street, for a calendar issued by the Pope Manufacturing Co., for 1898.

The Tests of Portland Cement

usually made as to fineness, tensile strength at one and four weeks, setting, etc., do not afford an opportunity to ascertain if the cement under test possesses other qualities, which for practical purposes are equally, if not more, valuable. The customary tests of cement give no evidence regarding its strength when mixed with a larger proportion of sand, regarding its uniformity, constancy of volume, durability, adhesiveness, impermeability, resistance to violent changes of the atmosphere, and to abrasion by wear. Information as to these qualities can only be obtained by the observation of long-time tests, the results of the employment of the cement in practice, which must be taken into consideration, together with the results of the usual tests, to form a judgment of the relative value of several cements.

The Dyckerhoff Portland Cement will pass the requirements of all tests compatible with the best quality, and the well-known results of its employment for more than thirty years have demonstrated that it possesses in the highest degree all the qualities desirable in a Portland Cement, and justify the reputation that the Dyckerhoff is the best Portland Cement made.

Mr. E. Chiele, 78 William street, New York, is the sole agent for the United States for the Dyckerhoff Portland Cement, and will be pleased, on application, to forward a pamphlet describing this cement more fully, and containing directions for tests, employment and testimonials.

The Dyckerhoff Portland Cement is for sale by Messrs. Lesley & Trinkle, Fairmount avenue wharf, Philadelphia, and all the leading dealers in building materials throughout the country.

ACCORDING to the Newark Call, a case came up in the Orange District Court that shows, at least, phenomenal carelessness. A woman contracted for the building of a house, and in the specifications was a distinct clause that no extras were to be allowed unless under the written order of the owner, approved by the architect. Despite this the contractor brought in a bill of extras, which had been ordered by the architect, the owner standing by and tacitly consenting to the same. Judge Storrs held that no implied agreement could hold in the face of a specific and definite contract in opposition to it. Another funny thing was that in the copy of the contract given to the contractor there was a written clause authorizing the doing of certain work. There were four copies of this contract and specifications, and the only one in which the clause appeared was the one in the possession of the contractor, the ones on file in the county clerk's office and in the East Orange Building Department, as well as the one in possession of the owner, containing no such clause, and yet the architect swore that all the copies were identical. The evidence is plain that the architect interpolated this clause to satisfy the contractor, trusting to luck that the fact would not be found out. Judge Storrs, before whom the case came, in commenting on this and other facts brought out in the evidence, took occasion to score architects roundly for the way they "get owners in a hole and force them to pay bills of extras in consequence of the incompetency of the architects themselves." It seems too bad for the profession to bear so often the onus of individual faults. As in other professions, there are "architects and architects."—Architecture and Building.

Architects' Notes.

Geo. Page, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, is taking estimates on an alteration to residence of A. C. Cox, at Drifton, Pa. This will include, beside an addition, interior work of all kinds.

Hewitt Bros., architects, Bullitt building, are taking estimates on a house for Mr. Jno. C. Gill, at Edgewater Park, N. J. It is to be brick and stone, 46x50 feet, and will contain all comforts and improvements, including hot air heating, electric work, tin and slate roofing, etc.

Field & Medary, architects, 1432 South Penn Square, are engaged on plans for a church building, to be erected in this city. At present full details cannot be given. The structure will be ornamental in design, and contain all modern improvements. Fuller details given later on.

Edward S. Paxon, architect, 739 Walnut street, has completed plans for alteration and addition to residence of James L. Paiste, D. D., of Avondale, Chester county, Pa. This work will be stone and brick, two-and-a-half stories high, 30 feet x 50 feet, and cost about $5,000. All conveniences will be introduced.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Mr. William Weightman having purchased 1330 Chestnut street, will, it is understood, attach this to what is known as the Hale Building, Nos. 1326-28, thus forming a most complete office building.

A movement of citizens of the Thirtieth ward is being made for a new school building to be erected on a lot to be secured at Twelfth street and Allegheny avenue, and the matter now depends on the appropriation of money by City Councils. The matter is before the committee of the Board of Education on Property.

Under the provisions of the new loan bill, West Philadelphia will surely get a new source of water supply by the erection of a new reservoir, and works for pumping as well. This is the result of agitation by prominent citizens headed by Thomas Martindale, J. Warner Goheen and others. The matter is assuming practical shape in the preparation of an ordinance looking to that end.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

The committee having the matter in charge of installing the underground system on the Pennsylvania avenue and Fourteenth street lines of the C. & P. at Traction Co., has awarded the Dean Steam Pump Co., of Holyoke, Mass., the contract for supplying the pumps to be used in the new power house. Architect C. H. Harding has prepared plans for a handsome residence to be erected at 1432 Welling place, University Park, for Charles H. West. It will be three stories high, 20 x 68 feet, of brown stone and pressed brick, with bay windows, slate mansard roof, hard wood interior finish, sanitary plumbing, tiled bath rooms, hot water heating and all modern conveniences. It is probable that an appropriation will be made to secure about thirteen acres of ground immediately west of and adjoining Oak Hill Cemetery for park purposes. In the proposed plan of street extension, provision is made for a number of small parks, circles and reservations, also for the reservation of the Anacostia flats, which when reclaimed will give a park of about nine hundred acres. Plans are being prepared by George S. Cooper for six dwellings to be erected on Twenty first street between "O" and "P" streets, Northwest. They will be three stories high, of mottled brick and light stone, green slate roofs. The lower floors will be finished in hard woods, cabinet mant is throughout and all modern convenience. Arthur Cowslit has bought two lots on the west side of Columbia road, south of Wyomg g avenue, Washington Heights, and is having plans prepared for two dwellings to occupy the site. They will be of stone, fine interior finish, tiling and all modern conveniences. John W. Gregg will erect five dwellings on Patterson street. They will be two stories high, well finished and provided with modern improvements and conveniences. E. M. Sunderland has prepared the plans for the proposed new power house to be erected by the United States Electric Light Co. It will occupy a site at the southeast corner of Fourth and "B" streets and will be one story high, with sixty-two foot tower. Appleton P. Clark, Jr., has prepared the plans for remodeling the dwelling of Dr. A. F. A. King, at 726 Thirteenth street, Northwest. The ground floor will be fitted up as a store and the Doctor's office will occupy the second floor; new plumbing and heating will be put in. C. M. King has arranged for the erection of eight brick dwellings on Fourteenth street, extended. They will be three stories high, of brick with square bay windows, well finished throughout and provided with modern comforts. Appleton P. Clark, Jr., has also prepared plans for a two-story brick warehouse to be erected in the rear of 635 "H" street, Northwest, for D. L. McCarthy. F. T. Eckhoff will erect a dwelling at 636 "S" street Southwest. It will be two stories high, of pressed brick, and well finished throughout. George F. Newton has made arrangements for the erection of four two-story dwellings on Massachusetts avenue, between First and Second streets.

Allen B. Rorke, contractor, has bought of the West Philadelphia Title and Trust Co. the lot at southwest corner Thirtieth and Aspen streets, for $4500.

Estimates are being made on sewers for Germantown, in the office of the Survey Bureau, also on the same kind of work on Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Herman streets.

William A. Wells, builder and owner, will erect eight two-story houses on the northwest side of Woodland avenue near Sixty-fourth and a-half street. Press brick, stone facings and steps, etc.

M. P. Wells & Co., Thirteenth and Walnut streets, will be the contractors for the warehouse of the Babbitt Soap Co. at Ninth and Jefferson streets. Noted in full in a previous issue of this journal.

An ordinance has been favorably acted on by the Highway Committee of Councils to open Rising Sun lane between Luzerne and Third streets, in order to do away with grade crossings of railways.

Hardwoods are now so largely used in home construction work that prices have advanced from fifty cents to two dollars per thousand feet since last summer. This is particularly true of oak and black ash.

The mattress factory of S. Pack & Sons, 137-39 North Second street, was entirely destroyed by fire on the night of the 18th inst. and damaged to some extent the properties on either side. The loss is estimated at about $85,000.

Wm. T. B. Roberts has transferred to Samuel J. Young eighteen dwellings, each about 14.3 by 55 feet, located on the east side of Hollywood street, north of Master, for $30,000, subject to mortgages amounting to $18,500.

Harry Saunders, builder, 230 North Twenty-second street, has bought a lot of ground on north side of Lancaster avenue, west of Fifty-first street, and will improve the site at an early day by erection of several buildings of a pleasing character.

McCoughy Bros., builders, will soon start an operation at Fifty-sixth and Market streets; also on Thirteenth street. All these are to be of fancy colored brick, stone trimmings and steps, with best conveniences in interior. They are to be two and three stories high.

David Fulton, builder, has begun the erection of 21 dwellings on Frazier, north of Market, and on Market east of Fifty-seventh street; also on Arch, west of Frazier street. All these are to be of best press brick, stone facings, and best interior work and accommodations, etc.

Porter Thompson & Sons, contractors, will at once begin to erect a fine residence at 2050 Locust street, for Dr. Caspar Morris. It will be stone and brick, 17 x 49 feet, four stories high, and interior will have tile work and hard wood finish, with electric work and all the latest improvements, etc.

The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund have paid $40,000 to the City Treasurer for the purpose of enlarging the wards of the insane at Blockley Almshouse. This money, under ordinance of October 12th, has been held for this purpose alone. No plans have yet been made or details agreed upon by the Bureau of City Charities.

A movement is now on foot to secure a new hospital building suitable for contagious diseases, and a meeting has been held for that purpose in the office of the mayor. Rev. H. C. McCook, C. Stuart Patterson, Rev. Jos. Krauskoff and others are urging the matter before the public. Nothing definite has been accomplished so far, but the enterprise is in good shape for future work.

At Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, property has just been bought by the Deer Park Driving Club of Chestnut Hill, and the site will be improved by the erection of a handsome clubhouse. It will be two stories high, of gray stone, hard wood interior finish, steam heat, electric lights, billiard and pool room, fine plumbing, considerable tile work and all modern conveniences. The ground will contain tennis courts, golf links, track, etc.

The purchase of the northwest corner of Broad and Chestnut streets, as noted in our previous issue, creates a lively interest in all other property contiguous thereto. Report is current that the southeast corner of Broad street and Penn square has been bought, belonging to the estate of the late H. Watt, and an other in the vicinity belonging to A. S. L. Shields, 1402 South Penn square, upon which offers have been made. This is only a part of the property desired. As far as we can learn, no transfers of the latter have been made to date, but all purchasable sites are being sought by interested parties. The absolute sale of the Robert Steele property, referred to above, at Broad and Chestnut streets, indicates the largest price ever paid for property in the central part of the city. Chommeton and Cochran, architects, 1017 Chestnut street, have completed plans for a house to be erected at Ashbourne, Pa., for Mr. William Grebenker, of that place. It is to be of local stone and frame, and contain all the latest improvements on interior.

Benjamin F. Rogers, architect, 5628 Mignonette street, Pittsburg, has made plans for a house to be erected in the East End for W.A. McDonald. The structure will be faced with pink colored brick, and contain all the latest improvements in the interior. Estimates are now in order upon the materials and work.

Architect and Engineer George Plewman, 1011 and 1013 Betz Building, is preparing plans for extensive interior and exterior improvements to the Waverly Hotel, Fifteenth and Filbert streets. Same architect has on the boards plans of a seven-story fire proof hotel for Atlantic City. Full details will be given later.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, is engaged on plans for a handsome house to be erected at Wilkesbarre, Pa., for a local party. It is to be of stone and frame, two and one-half stories high and basement. Interior in hard woods and contain electric work, tile work, papering, painting, and general conveniences.

The New Capitol Building Commission of this State have refused to pay the $10.00 premium on plans rejected to competing architects unless they can demonstrate that these drawings were in keeping with the instructions issued by the commission previously to such competitors. Of course this only affects the six who were specially invited to make plans.

Seymour Davis, architect, 917 Walnut street, is completing the details for the hospital building to be erected at Allentown, Pa., for the Allentown Hospital Association of that place. The structure will be 50 x 200 feet, brick and stone, two stories high, with a basement. All modern improvements will be introduced in lighting, heating and other hospital details.

Hales and Ballinger, architects, Twelfth and Chestnut streets, are making plans for a seven-story fire proof store to be built in this city, location withheld for the present. The drawings for the new Methodist Home are approaching completion and will soon be put on boards for estimates by the contractors of the city. These have been noted previously in this journal.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, Twelfth and Chestnut streets, have awarded the contract for the new factory for Fair & Company to Contractor George W. Stewart, 230 Diamond street. It will be three stories high, brick, stone and iron, with some terra cotta work, and the front has large plate glass show windows. This work has been noted previously in this journal.

R. W. Boyle, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has completed plans for a club shooting gallery for the American Rifle Club at Sepviva and Huntingdon streets, and estimates are being made on the work in the office of J. J. Molloy, 1118 Betz Building. It will be two stories high, slate roof, and have electric light. Plastering and cement flooring, with all other comforts and conveniences, etc.

Mr. Angus S. Wade, the well known architect of this city, has just taken title to the northwest corner of Girard avenue and Forty-second street, 64 x 96 feet, and 552 x 103 feet. Subject to a considerable mortgage. The same purchaser has transferred twenty lots of ground on Girard avenue west of Forty-second street to the Equitable Trust Company, for $50,000. Subject to a mortgage of $30,000.

Godeffroy & Boyer, architects, 1405 Filbert street, are engaged on plans for an office and light manufacturing business building to be erected at 13th and Noble streets. It will be an iron frame brick construction, 40 x 75 feet and three stories high. It will have steam heat and power, electric work, skylights, freight-lift, office fixtures, cement work, pipe covering, and general conveniences and improvements, etc.

William MacCauley, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, is making preliminary plans for a residence to be erected in the southern part of the city; owner's name withheld. It will be of faced brick, brown stone trimmings, and basement of cement flooring. All modern comforts. The same architect is preparing plans for an operation of two-story houses which will be of much the same character as the above interior.

Hewitt Bros., architects, Bullitt Building, are making preliminary plans for a club house for the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, of the University of Pennsylvania. The structure is to be of face brick and stone work, 50 x 200 feet. Interior will be in hard wood; steam heat, electric work and general conveniences, etc. The amusement rooms are to be fitted with billiard tables, shuffle boards, bowling alleys, and possibly a pool for swimming.

Kennedy, Hayes & Kelsey, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have completed plans for a house to be erected at Lansdowne, Pa., for Frank H. Fleer. The structure will be three stories high, stone and brick. Slate and tin roofing. Interior to be in hard woods. Electric work, ranges, and all modern comforts and conveniences, etc. Estimates are being made in office of Jacob Myers & Sons, Juniper and Sansom streets. In same office are the plans for the University Club alteration and addition, 1510 Walnut street, for estimate.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have made plans for a residence at Bala, for Virginia H. Hollowbush. It will be 68 x 50 feet, three stories high, and contain 15 rooms in all. These are to be in hard woods, fitted with gas and electric work, mantels, tiling, and finest of plumbing, etc. Estimates are being made in office of architects.

E. C. Hartman, architect, 441 Chestnut street, is engaged on plans for a warehouse for John A. Lengie, to be erected at Wilmington, to be of stone, brick and iron, three stories high, 46 x 66 feet in area, and will have a slate roof. Interior will contain all conveniences, etc. The plans by same for the large brewery previously noted in these columns are being pushed as fast as possible to completion. This work was fully noted by us in a previous issue, November 10th, current year. This work will be under the personal management of Mr. A. Broza, of 630 Walnut street, on behalf of the owners.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

William Nickell, of the 29th ward, has been appointed Permit Clerk in the Bureau of Building Inspectors by Director Riter. Mr. Nickell has assumed the duties of his position.

It is understood some minor work in the way of alterations is to be done about the Temple Baptist Church, Broad and Berks streets, Rev. Conwell, pastor. The matter is now under consideration by the trustees and pastor.

R. C. Ballinger & Co., contractors, 218 North Thirteenth street, have the contract to erect the house of Mrs. Longstreth, at Bryn Mawr, after plans by Walter Smedley, architect, 435 Chestnut street. These have been noted previously in these columns.

The citizens of Tacony, Olney and Tabor, in the 22d, 25th and 35th wards, are asking extension of time for erection of frame buildings in those localities. The time will expire by ordinance in May 1898; hence their present request of City Councils.

As noted in a previous issue of this journal a large casino and pavilion is about to be erected in Woodside Park, by the proprietors. The measurement will be 95 x 149 feet, and surrounded by an extensive porch. The interior will contain dining rooms, parlors and other conveniences, and the whole will be so arranged as to be of service the entire year. Plans have been filed with the Board of Building Inspectors.

World's Cotton Mills.

The following is from the latest London "Shareholder." "In connection with the crisis in the cotton trade to which we have often referred lately, some figures with regard to the world's cotton mills may be interesting. The cotton factories of Great Britain alone contain 45,270,000 spindles and 660,000 looms, the United States coming next with 17,333,396 spindles and 354,533 looms. Germany makes nothing like so good a show as many would imagine, having only 6,571,332 spindles and 245,000 looms. Russia follows with 6,010,000 spindles and 200,000 looms, whilst France has 5,089,000 spindles, but only 126,000 looms. Austria, Spain, Italy and Switzerland come next amongst European countries. In the far East, India has a spindle power of 3,932,946, but has only 37,270 looms. Japan has 1,300,000 spindles and 3,095 looms, whilst China is content with 300,000 spindles and 1,200 looms. Canada boasts 491,252 spindles and 1,200 looms. How widespread are the effects of the crisis may be imagined."

Architectural Ruins in South Africa.

The London correspondent of the Birmingham Post says that the formation of an Ancient Ruins Prospecting Company in Rhodesia, which encountered some criticism from archaeologists, has had one result which will be heard of with interest by those who regarded the scheme as the work of commercial vandals, for the travelers employed by the company have discovered a number of hitherto unknown ruins. Messrs. Neale and Johnson, who knew of no fewer than 200 separate ruins altogether, have, on a recent expedition, located 55. One is particularly interesting, as, though it resembles Zimababwe in shape, its walls, about 15 inches thick and 15 feet high, are made in a novel manner. They do not consist of bricks or tiles, but seem to be in one solid piece of glazed material, which looks as if it had been burnt after being placed in position. This strange style of architecture suggests, Messrs. Neale and Johnson think, a different race of people from the ordinary ancient workers. It is clear from the character of the ruins that they had attained a high standard of excellence in building. Even more remarkable than the news of this find is the report of Messrs. Neale and Johnson that they have verified the story which has been always current among the natives as to the existence of an ancient building which possesses massive stone doors, still in position and unopened. The explorers state that this extraordinary ruin is in an unhealthy district, and that lack of water made it necessary for them to postpone visiting it. There will be no difficulty in returning, as far as the natives are concerned, for they are perfectly submissive. The region visited by Messrs. Neale and Johnson embraced the Lower Shanganhi, the Lower Unvungue, the Lower Sebakgue, the Lower Gwelo and the Lower Inyati.—Architecture and Building.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South 15th street, are figuring on estimates for an alteration to 242 South 16th street. All modern improvements will be introduced.

Armstrong & Printzinghoff, contractors, will at once construct a boiler house, 95 x 60 feet, for the Powelton Electric Company, at 43d street and P. W. & B. R. R. Brick, stone and iron, with steam power, etc.

James S. Mullin, owner, is at work on erection of four two-story dwellings, 16 x 38 feet, on Haven and Westminister streets, east of 56th street. These are of pressed brick, stone fronts, and interior fitted with all comforts.

Detail work is being arranged by the Fairmount Park Commission for the seasonal weather of the Winter and the coming Spring, which consists of new walks and drives, rearrangement of flower-beds and general work under the new appropriation.

About 20 houses are to be erected at Llan-arh, Delaware county, Pa., for the Girard Trust Company, at Broad and Chestnut streets, by and under the supervision of G. W. Deaves, contractor, of Clifton Heights. The latter has been taking sub-estimates on material, etc.

Ketcham & Sons, contractors, are about to erect a handsome house for E. F. Davis, at northeast corner of 38th and Ludlow streets. This structure will be of brick and stone and fitted on interior with hard woods, electric work and every modern comfort and conveniences.

F. A. Poth, brewer and builder, will at once begin the erection of six new dwellings on south side of Parkside avenue, west of Forty-second street. These are a continuation of others built in the vicinity and will be of Pompeian brick and fitted with every comfort on the interior.

E. M. Culbertson & Co., 2324-26 Philadelphia street, have been awarded the contract to furnish all stair work on 21 two and three-story dwellings for Mr. Benjamin Short, at Pulaski and Hunting Park avenues. Owing to increase of business they are putting in a fifty-horse power boiler.

W. Bleyden Powell, architect to the Public Building Commission, has recommended additional elevators for the northwest corner of the Public Building, Broad and Market streets, also tiling of the walls above the wainscoting and other minor work, to be done during the coming year 1898.

The Northern Pacific Railroad is deriving a large freight interest from the transportation of shingles which are made in Washington. An increase in nine months of this year of over 40,000,000 over last year will give an idea of how rapidly the manufacture of shingles is developing in the far Northwest.

Nos. 39-41 North Eighth street was destroyed by fire on Sunday, November 28th, and will be rebuilt at once. The property belongs to the Lang estate and is managed by George Gang, of this city. The Apt Brothers are anxious to begin business in the course of two or three weeks at the same stand.

Mr. Thomas McKean, of this city, has given to the New Law Building of the University of Pennsylvania $100,000, to aid specially in the construction of the building now under way, and previously noted in this journal. This gift insures the completion of the structure at an early day, and aids the Faculty of any further hindrance.

J. W. Mercer & Co., engineers and contractors, 208 South 7th street, are taking estimates on an alteration and addition of an extensive character to 1510 Walnut street, for the University Club of this city. The plans were prepared by Horace W. Sellers, architect, 635-7 Bourse Building, of this city, and L. C. Holden, of New York City, associated architect.

The new gymnasium of the Alumni Association of the University of Pennsylvania is now an assured structure of the near future. As previously noted, a committee to devise ways and means was appointed, with Dr. J. William White as chairman, and already $15,000 has been subscribed for the purpose, and the next duty of those in charge will be to arrange for plans and select a site upon which to build the structure. Enough has developed to indicate a handsome and unique building for this enterprising association.

It is announced that the late Dr. Evans, who died suddenly in Paris, has made a will bequeathing considerable of his money to accomplish the erection of a number of buildings of a philanthropic and educational character in this country, among which is understood to be provision for a Museum of Art, to be erected either in New Haven, Conn., or in Philadelphia; also in the latter place an immense Dental College and endowments to run the same. The last will of Dr. Evans was made at Davos Platz, one of his abodes in Europe. No definite announcement has as yet been received from his executors named under his last testament.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

As indicated in a previous issue of this journal the properties, 137 North Second street, owned by Mrs. S. A. Brady, 1941 Vine street, and 139, owned by the Fidelity Trust Company, will be rebuilt at an early date. These were destroyed by fire on the night of November 18th, and will be entirely remodelled upon new plans. No contracts let.

Widener, of this city, has just announced publicly his intention to present this municipality with his palatial home, located at Broad and Girard avenues, for the purpose of a public library. This may not be carried out practically until some time in 1898, owing to the intention of Mr. Widener to erect a new suburban house, and the removal of the furniture, etc. Considerable interior work will be necessary to fit this building for its intended purposes, in the way of shelving, partitions and general alterations, etc. It is too early to indicate what provision will be made either by the donor or the recipient, nor has any official action other than the announcement and intention of the owner been made.

It will be well finished and supplied with all modern appliances and conveniences. The plans have been prepared by Joseph Swannell, of Red Bank, N. J.—Another important operation will be the erection of a two-and-a-half-story frame residence and stable for J. A. Haskell, of 99 Cedar street, New York City, from plans prepared by Leon Cubberly, of Long Branch, N. J. Both residence and stable will be handsomely finished and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements. The estimated cost is about $10,000.

At Deal, Monmouth county, a large amount of work will be done at Deal, between this time and the opening of the season, next year. Among the important operations is the erection of a large frame hotel, to cost $75,000, from plans prepared by Gilbert A. Snellinger, 128 Broadway, N. Y. It will be handsomely finished and furnished throughout, fine plumbing and fixtures, tile work, tile and ornamental glass, office fixtures and all modern conveniences, including elevators.—S. W. Kirkbride, of Asbury Park, will erect a handsome cottage at Deal, from plans prepared by Brouse and Arend, of Asbury Park. It will be finely furnished throughout and supplied with all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is $7,000. The Hathaway Inn will be improved by the erection of an addition. The owner is the Atlantic Coast Realty Company, of which Percival Farquhar, 32 Nassau street, New York City, is the secretary. The plans for these alterations have been prepared by Kimball & Thompson, 66 Broadway, New York City.—A fine cottage will be erected by Alfred Taft, 69 Mercer street, New York City. The plans for this operation have been prepared by Frank Goodwillie, 154 West Thirty-fourth street, N. Y. The material will be frame, handsome interior finish, plain and ornamental glass, tile work, sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is $8,000.—Mrs. E. M. Benton, of Philadelphia, has arranged for the erection of a cottage to cost about $10,000. It is said no details have been arranged nor architect selected.—Mr. Joseph M. Byrne, 800 Broad street, Newark, N. J., will erect a two-and-a-half-story frame cottage, for which no architect has as yet been selected.—The finest improvement, however, will be the handsome Casino which the company will erect at the northeast corner of Deal esplanade and Ocean avenue. It will be of brick, terra cotta and lumber, and will cost about $50,000. The address of the company—the Atlantic Realty—is 32 Nassau street, N. Y. It is said that no architect has been selected as yet to draw the plans for this building.—A two-and-a-half-story frame cottage will be erected by W. H. Appleton, of East Orange, N. J., from plans by Harry Firth, also of East Orange. The estimated cost is about $6,000. It will be well finished and provided with modern conveniences.

Washington, D. C.

The North Capitol and Eckington Citizens Association at a recent meeting considered the question of the erection of a building to be used as a public hall and library. Mr. Truesdell, ex-Commissioner of the District of Columbia, agreed to give a lot for the purpose. It is situated on Quincy street adjoining the site of the new school building. It is 40 x 90 feet. The proposed building will be two stories high with an ornamental front and arranged to have light and air on all the sides, and a grass plot of 15 feet in front. More definite plans will be considered at the next meeting of the association. The president of the association is W. G. Henderson, and the following are chairmen of committees: Streets, sidewalks and lights, M. A. Mess; sewers and water, R. W. Pond; schools and school houses, I. B. Linton; parks and parking, T. A. Mayes; public library and hall, Charles E. Kern; with J. H. Lane, T. P. Kane, A. R. Serven and William G. Henderson on the committee.—The power plant of the United States Electric Lighting Company was damaged by fire on Thursday of last week to the extent of $20,000.—It is said to be the intention of the syndicate that has bought the Eckington & Belt Railroad, in connection with the purchase of the Columbia & Maryland Railroad, to equip them with the underground system, and that the work will begin in a short time.—H. A. Evans will erect a row of brick dwellings at 1322 to 1328 North Capitol street. They will be two stories high, of brick, well finished and provided with all modern comforts. A row of five similar dwellings will be erected on Patterson street by John W. Gregg, and W. E. Horton will erect two dwellings at 639-41 "A" street, Northeast. They will be two stories high, of brick, stone foundations and trimmings.—The company which owns the Raleigh Hotel at the northeast corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Twelfth street is having plans prepared for a fine addition to the present building by the New York architect who prepared the plans for the Astoria of that city.—Work on this addition will begin late next Spring, and will occupy the ground owned by the company on Twelfth street adjoining the hotel. The addition will be 88 x 100 feet, and of the same height as the hotel proper.—F. Brinkman will erect a dwelling 1328 Eleventh street. It will be two stories high and well finished.—A three-story brick dwelling will be erected at 805 New Jersey avenue by Francis C. Brown. It will have a front of brown stone, and will be well furnished throughout, with hot water heating; considerable tile work and modern conveniences.—John A. Wynkoop has arranged for the erection of two three-story brick and stone dwellings at 125 and 127 Sixth street, Southeast. They will have tile Mansard roof, good interior finish and modern conveniences.—John F. Springmann will erect a brick warehouse at the southwest corner of Eighth and I streets. It will be two stories high, 50 x 60 feet.—The plan has been revived of devoting the land lying between the wall and Pennsylvania avenue, and from Ninth to Fifteenth street, as sites for public buildings.—The Commissioners have also adopted a policy which, if carried out, will remove all the features which make Thirteenth street, south of the Agricultural grounds, so objectionable. It has also been suggested that a site on Thirteenth street be selected for a new station house for the first precinct. It is also suggested that Thirteenth street would be a suitable site for a building to be erected for the use of the District National Guards. If these plans are carried out the proposed municipal building would probably be erected on the grounds, together with other public buildings.—Edward W. Donn, Jr., has prepared plans for an isolated hospital building for the treatment of contagious diseases, and which will be erected on grounds of the Providence Hospital. It will be of brick, hard-wood interior finish and all modern conveniences and appliances for the intended purpose. The Scottish Rite Temple will be enlarged and remodelled from plans prepared by Colonel Robert J. Fleming. These include the fitting up of the basement as a handsome banqueting hall and the first floor as a library. A museum will occupy the second floor and the third floor will be used as a council chamber.

Architects' Notes.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, is taking figures on alterations and additions to 2029 De Lancy place. Estimates on the work are being taken in office of F. J. Hoover & Son, 708 Jayne street, and include steam heat, electrical work, slate roof, closet baths and sinks, etc.

Thomas Stephen, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., is engaged on drawings for an amusement hall to be built in Camden for a company as owners. It will be of frame and brick, one story high, arc and incandescent light, hard wood flooring, plumbing, gas fitting, etc.

J. Franklin Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 N. Thirteenth street, are engaged on drawings for a club house, bowling alley and billiard hall to be erected at Jenkintown, Pa., for Mr. F. Ruloff of this city. Interior work will be steam heat, electric work, plumbing, plastering, hard wood work, etc.

Geo. Lovatt, architect, 424 Walnut street, is engaged on revised plans for a pair of houses to be erected at Torresdale, Pa. These have been noted before in this journal and will be of brick and stone, slate and tin roofing, hot air heat, electric work, hard wood interior work, mantels, ranges, plate glass. All modern conveniences introduced.

Among the proposed buildings noted to be upon the board of architects for construction recently, and which have been laid over until the spring of 1898, are those for the Convent building of St. John's Roman Catholic Church at or near Pitston, Pa. Also plans for a house at Cynwyd, Pa., for A. K. Gregory, the drawings by Harold Gregory, 1208 Chestnut street.

Horace W. Sellers, architect, 640 Bourse Building, has made plans for altering and remodeling of a chapel at Twentieth and Cherry streets. The work will include decoration, upholstering, painting, hardware, choir fixtures, carpeting, stained and common glass, hard wood work, slate and copper roof. It will be stone and face brick, one story and basement.

Joseph Anschutz, architect to Board of Education, 713 Filbert street, is engaged on drawings for an addition to the new James G. Blaine school, at Thirteenth and Norris streets. The work will be of gray stone and fancy brick, and conform to the present structure. Steam heat, electric work, sliding doors and partitions, seats, desks and grille work, copper and iron cornices, fire escapes, slate roof.

W. Frisby Smith, architect, 1345 Arch street, is taking figures on eight fine houses to be erected at Girard and Belmont avenues, for W. F. Field of this city. These are to be of faced brick, brown stone trimmings, galvanized cornice, hot air heat, electric work, gas fixture combinations, painting, papering, tile work, wood mantels, inside blinds, and general comfort and conveniences which are to be introduced.

Edgar V. Seeler, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans for rebuilding the house of Dr. H. C. Register, recently burned, near Ardmore, Pa. The structure will be of local stone, three stories high, shingle roof, hard wood interior, hot air furnace, plate and fancy glass, tile work, ranges, best culinary fixtures, and all modern improvements. Estimates being made in office of W. R. Dougherty, contractor, 1604 Sansom street.

Supervising Architect A. K. Taylor, United States Treasury Department, was in Camden, N. J., during the last week to inspect a site secured some time ago for a public building in that place under an appropriation made at the last session of Congress. Plans are being prepared for a fine three-story structure to cost about $150,000. The first floor will be occupied by the post office; second by the revenue department and other government offices; the third will no doubt be fitted up for court rooms, ante and retiring rooms to the larger ones. The work may be started during the spring or summer of 1898.

Willis G. Hale, architect, Weightman Building, Chestnut above Fifteenth street, has made plans for an operation of about 100 houses to be erected in vicinity of Overbrook for a stock company recently formed. These are to be of quite an original design; face brick, stone trimmings, basement cement floors, steam or hot air heat, electric work, leaded and plain glass, mantels to be in oak, cherry and chestnut finish, with general conveniences for comfort. Same architect has made plans for the E. T. Davis House, at Thirty-eighth and Ludlow streets, noted in our last issue, and work on which has been started by Contractors B. Ketcham Sons. The same architect made the plans for the immense restaurant of the Gimble Bros., restaurant on the seventh floor, which will be fully up-to-date in all particulars and cost $30,000.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has made plans for remodeling the Roman Catholic Church of St. Philip De Neri, Queen street above Second, and only part of the general work intended to be done will be executed at this time. After the Lenten season of 1898, it is expected to entirely finish the edifice in a most complete manner. The only work done now will be as noted previously in this journal, to make the structure generally comfortable. The present estimates are being made in the office of W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and who is now the general contractor. Carpentering, plastering, painting, star ventilator, hardware, plumbing and gas fitting, and some marble sanctuary work.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifteenth street, are making estimates on additional stories to 13-15 North Water street for the Girard estate.

Patrick J. Kelly has sold to the Polish Catholic Church, of this city, eleven acres of ground fronting on the Westchester pike for the purposes of a cemetery, in which will be erected a chapel. Offers by same parties have been made for a farm of fifty acres adjoining.

Streeter & Sheaffer, 152 Moore street, are receiving estimates on forty-five dwellings to be erected at Ritner and Wolf streets. Former estimates were high, and figures are now on furnaces, gas fixtures, plumbing, tin and slag roofing, tiling vestibules, plate and common glass, cement flooring, etc.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

City Councils are to be asked for a two-million-dollar appropriation for next year. The money is to be used for an electric passenger elevator for the tower, windows and skylights for the room being fitted up for the water bureau on the seventh floor, windows for rooms on the fifth floor, also windows for about forty-four rooms on the third floor. The cost of each window, it is stated, will be over $1000. Ventilation for the Council chambers will necessitate considerable alteration in other parts of the building, which will, of course, greatly increase the cost. There is some talk of removing the circular addition to the first two stories of the tower. This will require considerable money, as

Architect Notes.

R. J. Patrick, clerk of court, Chester county, Pa., offices at West Chester, Pa., states that the county commissioners contemplate erecting an asylum at an early day, and in all probability may soon ask for competitive plans and estimates.

Charles Oelschlaeger, architect, 1011 Harrison Building, is at work on plans for alteration and addition to the residence 1623 Sansom street, for Walter Fryday, owner. All kinds of exterior and interior detail work will be included in the specifications.

J. Cather Newsom, architect, 1001 Chestnut street, has completed plans for an operation of houses at Fifty-eighth street and Woodland avenue. The whole lot are to be of fancy brick, stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornices, hot air heating, and the best comforts and conveniences.

Mr. Theo. R. Helb, of York, Pa., has had plans made by an architect of this city for a house to be built for himself in the above place, and all contracts are to be let by the owner. These include hot air heat, electric work, slate roof, plate glass, papering, painting and detail interior work.

Yarnall and Goforth, 14 South Broad street, are engaged on drawings for a fine residence to be erected at Cedar town, Ga., for J. W. Adamson, of this city. It will be of stone and brick, three stories and basement, slate roof, interior to be in hard woods, and best conveniences, etc. The owner intends having estimates made in the South.

T. P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, has completed plans for the addition to the M. E. Deaconess Home, 609-11 Vine street, and is taking estimates on the work, which will include brick and stone building, three stories high and basement, slate roof, electric work, painting, plate glass and leaded work, all modern comforts and conveniences.

Dull & Peterson, architects, 1110 Walnut street, having completed the plans for the manufactory of the Electro Engraving Co., on Cherry street, have been receiving bids for the work. It will measure 71 feet x 35 feet, three stories high, and contain steam power and heat, electric work, slag roof, plate glass, freight lift, with all general conveniences, etc. It will cost about $10,000.

Charles W. Bolton, architect, Witherspoon Building, Room 1007, has on boards plans for St. Stephen's Reformed Church, to be erected at Reading Pa. It will be a stone structure, tower at corner, and large basement, which will be fitted for an infant school and gymnasium, etc. The size is 110 x 77 feet, and first floor will be fitted for church and Sabbath school purposes. All modern comfort and fittings will be introduced. No contracts let.

Architect H. E. Stout, Law Building, Atlantic City, N. J., has plans on boards for two fine houses to be erected in that city for private parties. These are brick and frame with all modern accommodations, etc.

Hale & Ballinger, architects, Twelfth and Chestnut streets, are making plans for a warehouse to be erected for a stove and range company at American and Dauphin streets. It will be of brick, five stories and a basement, electric light, slag roof, iron work, common glass, elevator light and general improvements will be introduced.

H. G. Adams, architect, Law Building, Atlantic City, N. J., is engaged on drawing for a pair of fine houses in that city, and to be erected in the Spring, or, perhaps, during the Winter months. These are frame, two and one-half stories high and heated by hot air, electric work, slate and tin roofing, all modern comforts on interior.

Lawrence Vischer Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has on boards plans for a large mansion, to be erected near this city. It will be of stone, three stories high, slate roof, electric work, hot air, decorations and hard woods, plate glass, also every modern comfort on interior. Fuller details given later. Owner's name not given at present.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have made plans for a new double-decked ferry house, for the Philadelphia & Reading R. R., at Chestnut street wharf, Delaware river. It will be iron and steel frame, steam heat, electric work, slag and slate roofing, plate and common glass, grill work of iron and brass, and all modern conveniences. Estimates will soon be asked.

J. Bennett Colesbury, architect, Oak Lane, has made plans for a fine house, to be erected at Brigantine Beach, N. J. The structure will be of frame, three stories high, and fitted on interior with all the latest and best conveniences for a home. Cost will be about $10,000. Also plans by same architect for a house at Oak Lane. This building will be three stories high, stone and brick, steam heat, electric work and every general comfort and convenience, etc. The contractor is N. H. Rand, 14 South Broad street.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have now completed plans for the new golf addition to the country club houses at or near Bala Station. The building will be a large and commodious affair, and built of stone and brick, three stories high; the interior will be fitted with parlors, reception rooms, dining rooms, closets and toilet rooms, all in hard woods. Electric work, plumbing, steam heat, and all conveniences. It is not likely anything will be done before the Spring of 1898 in the matter of construction.

G. W. and W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, have made plans for rebuilding the entire front of 1110 Chestnut street. It will be four stories high, and stone and brick, ornamental in design, with handsome large plate window for display of goods. The interior will be in fine colored hard wood, with elegant casings, electric work, and every convenience. The contract has been awarded to Geo. F. Payne & Co., who have started to work. The first floor will be occupied by H. Muhr & Sons, the well-known jewelers of this city.

Immediately after the first of January, coming, Strawbridge & Clothier, Eighth and Market street, will add to their emporium on the west, 817, 819, 821, 823 Market street. The old buildings will be torn away and a five-story structure reared in their places. In all particulars the new building will conform to the present, and be of stone, brick and terra cotta, with considerable iron and steel work. All the latest improvements will be introduced, elevators, steam heat, electric work, store fittings and general comforts for patrons and employees. Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, will make the plans for the above work.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Alterations are to be made at once to 935 and 937 South Fourth street, and it will in future be adapted to a public bath house. M. B. Silberstein, architect, will supervise the work. M. Sussman is the owner.

An ordinance has been introduced into Common Council of Philadelphia for a bridge over the Wissahickon Creek at Walnut Lane to connect the Twenty-first and Twenty-second wards of the city. Definite action may be had at an early day.

Contractor Thomas Reilly, 1220 Filbert street, will at once erect for himself an office and shop at 1616 Thompson street. It will be of fancy brick and stone trimmings, and interior to contain all accommodations. Figures are being made on the work at his office.

The Trinity Reformed Church, Woodvale, intends to erect a new church building. Rev. M. J. Herbin, D. D., is the pastor. It will be of brick and local stone, 40 feet x 65 feet, and contain all late comforts, conveniences, etc., including stained-glass windows, cement work, slag roof, church and school-room furniture. Address the pastor or Louis Krasmer, at the above place.

The United Congregation of the Chambers and Wylie Street Presbyterian Churches will soon consider the matter of plans, ways and means for the erection of their new edifice upon the site of the old Wylie Church, Broad below Spruce street. As yet neither plans nor contracts have been before the trustees, but the sale of the Chambers Church will in all probability expedite matters in this direction.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 15, 1897

A Hustling of the Hustlers.

As an evidence of what a little serious hustling will accomplish, when made by earnest men, the case of the Commonwealth Trust Company can be quoted as an example with hardly a parallel.

Burnt and crushed as its building was on Saturday night, arrangements had been made during the short interim to open at the new headquarters, 624 Chestnut street, at the break of day, on Monday morning.

This was not only accomplished, but business was going on just the same as though nothing had happened, at the regular business hour on Monday.

Renters' boxes will find everything about the vaults in complete order at the old stand, the same as usual.

A Big Ventilator.

Messrs. N. and G. Taylor Co., Philadelphia, have lately furnished the largest ventilator we have ever heard of. It has a total diameter of eighteen feet over all, the diameter of the neck being ten feet. It is on the Midland Beach Casino, at Midland Beach, Staten Island. It is the "Pancoast" make, which appears to be giving such great satisfaction throughout the United States. This same make of ventilator was also used on the new Astoria Hotel, New York city.

John R. Comber, the superintendent of the Money Order Division of the Philadelphia Post Office since June 1, 1889, has accepted a responsible position in the Financial Department of the Equitable Trust Company. Mr. Comber has tendered his resignation to Postmaster Thomas L. Hicks to take effect on January 1, 1898, when he will assume the duties of his new position. During Mr. Comber's incumbency the receipts of the Money Order Division of the Philadelphia Post office amounted to $41,936,780, and the expenditures amounted to $43,317,674.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Walter E. Steelman, builder, has bought a large piece of ground at the northeast corner of Huntingdon and Thirty-first streets, and will improve the site by building dwellings at an early date.

Secretary Gage has adopted the plans made for the Ellis Island Buildings, New York harbor, by Boring Felton, architect. The structures are to be of stone and brick, and will cost about $570,000.

Commissioners have been appointed by the Court at the request of leading citizens for a division of the First and Twenty-seventh wards, and these gentlemen will at once begin the work assigned them.

James Lilly, builder, will at once erect eight dwellings, 16 feet x 57 feet each, on Vine street, west of Fifty fifth street. All to be of fancy brick. Stone facings and best interior accommodations and work.

Isaac Dunn, contractor, is taking estimates on twenty houses to be erected at Broad and Jackson streets. To be of press brick, stone facings and steps, and all modern comforts and conveniences on interior. Dunn's address is in the Provident Building.

J. D. Thompson, of Seymour street, Germantown, is taking estimates on fifteen dwellings he intends to erect. These are to be of face brick, stone trimmings, interior to have hot air heat, electric work, wood mantels, tin roofs, tile work, plate glass, ranges, boilers, etc.

Contractor Charles McCaul is at work upon the burned buildings at Eighth and Chestnut streets, with a large force of men, and will push the work of rebuilding a portion at least of the wreck. The Dobson building will be erected under Mr. McCaul's supervision.

In view of action by Congress, making Atlantic City, N. J., a port of entry, Mayor Stoy has called a public meeting of the citizens to take measures to assist the government in making this feasible by assisting in surveys, and sites, etc., for public buildings, offices, and other preliminary matters.

Quite a number of recommendations are made for the ensuing year in the estimate made by Architect W. Bleyden Powell to the board of Public Building Commissioners. These involve the expenditure of $2,000,000, and will include enlargement of windows, fitting up of offices, and general detail work which involves considerable expense that cannot be approximated closely in a general estimate.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, is taking estimates on two branch Bell Telephone offices for the city, one located at Church and Unity streets, 24 feet x 50 feet, two stories high, brick and steel construction, and one on Preston street near Filbert street, 31 feet x 63 feet, two and a half stories, of granite, brick and steel construction, interior of both to contain all modern conveniences, etc.

tion, interior of both to contain all modern conveniences, etc.

R. C. Motherwell, Superintendent of the County Prison, Tenth and Reed streets, is receiving estimates for cement, iron work, angle and band iron, rivets, castings, iron piping and lumber, etc. Bids must be in by December 27th.

A. L. Fretz, contractor, of Cynwyd, Pa., has been taking estimates for a house to be built at Bala Station. It will be stone and frame, 35 feet x 50 feet, three stories high, hot air heat, electric work, tiling, hard wood and general comforts on interior.

George C. Deitch, contractor, 927 North Seventh street, has been taking estimates on an addition to a factory building to be erected at 1238-40 Belmont avenue. It is to be brick and iron, slag roof, galvanized iron cornice, steam power and heat, electric work, etc. Also for a tannery building for Dungan, Hood & Co. at American and York streets. This structure will be of brick, with iron truss roof, and contain an office at one end. It will also contain steam power, electric work, etc.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company proposes to build new piers and ferry houses at Market street wharf. The work will be started at once and include approaches to ferries, beginning at Front street and reaching to the second story of each structure. The Union Traction Company will also construct elevated tracks reaching the houses of the company at the ferry, and a covered passage way across Delaware avenue will be constructed. It is intended to inaugurate an electric plant for the use of the ferry houses and their surroundings.

William Weightman has now control of all the property east of the Real Estate Title and Trust Company, at Broad and Chestnut streets, having just purchased, in addition to those noted in our two last issues, the property of the Presbyterian Board of Publication for the sum of $450,000. This gives the new owner an addition to the Hale Building of 89 feet front, and a depth to each individual site of 230 feet to Sansom street. Whilst no immediate steps are to be taken towards building, yet there is no doubt about the ultimate design of Mr. Weightman to improve and enhance the value of his possessions in that locality.

As indicated in a previous issue of this journal the option on the property of A. S. L. Shields, 1402 South Penn Square, has culminated in sale to the West End Trust and Safe Deposit Company, located at 2020 Chestnut street. This last purchase gives the present owners a frontage on South Penn Square of 40 feet, and on Broad street 59 feet, and the price paid for both properties is $260,000. At present the officers of the West End Trust and Safe Deposit Company say they are unable to state what they will do with the site, but enough has been learned to indicate a purpose to improve it by the erection of a fine office structure, and occupation of the first floors at least by the buyers themselves.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

In the matter of a new reservoir and pipe system for West Philadelphia, the matter has now reached a point of success which only awaits the appropriation by Councils of the money. This action is largely due to the indefatigability of Mr. Thomas Marindale and other prominent citizens, coupled with the united support of the councilmanic delegation from the Twenty-fourth and Thirty-fourth wards. Action is expected to be taken upon this matter at an early day.

A destructive fire on the night of the 11th inst. destroyed completely the great Dobson stores located on Chestnut street above Eighth street, and damaged the western portion of Sharpless Bros' stores by falling walls to the extent of about $250,000. Also on the west the Commonwealth Title Insurance and Trust Company was crushed by falling walls and fire which carried damage to the rear of Hoskins' store west of that to the extent of perhaps $25,000. Already means are being taken by the owners of these properties to rebuild at once and make such repairs as are needed. The Messrs Dobson have opened offices and stores at Ninth and Market street; Sharpless Bros at 812-14 Market street and the Commonwealth Title Insurance and Trust Company at 624 Chestnut street. The damage to the William H. Hoskins stores will not disarrange their business to any extent.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post offices they will be so designated.

—At Glenside, Montgomery county, John Godfrey has broken ground for a new dwelling.

—At Emmaus, Lehigh county, the Donaldson Iron Company has under consideration the erection of a new pipe foundry.

Improve Your Fighting Chance for '98

WHEN we consider the many good fellows who are sleeping their long sleep within their tombs, and who cannot get out, we who are on the outside have everything for which to be thankful, no matter how great business trials have been or how serious financial losses.

The man who is on the top of the earth has always a fighting chance for his white alley, and especially in this the country of opportunities.

The pessimist is always wrong, because he ignores the power of Nature's forces and the clever brains that are directing and utilizing them. The Building News in this Journal is a reflex of one of Nature's most potent agents, because it represents the courage and enterprise of earnest men, and man is a creation of Nature.

If this is the correct philosophy, senseless bewailing over lost opportunity is time wasted.

Brace up, neighbor! Subscribe now for THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, and make your fighting chance equal at least to that of your competitors.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 22 1897

A New Year's Greeting.

Messrs Samuel H. French & Co., Fourth and Callowhill streets, are sending their New Year's greetings, "with best wishes for your happiness and prosperity," with a calendar and desk pad, to their many friends and customers.

The pad is arranged so that it provides a blank space for every working day in the year on which memoranda as to engagements and other important matters too sacred to be entrusted to fickle memory can be entered. The back leaves contain the yearly calendar for 1898 and a list of classified mail matter, with rates of postage on the same.

This firm is one of the oldest mercantile houses in the city, and it earned its spurs in the way of business prestige years before many of us were born.

The Aetna Fire Insurance Company.

The Aetna Fire Insurance Company of America, of which Mr. Edmond J. Durban, 403 Walnut street, is the Philadelphia manager, has sent us a typical calendar for 1898, representing Mount Aetna, from which the company takes its name, in a blaze of volcanic glory. The view was taken from the ancient ruins of the Grecian Theatre, at Jaurina.

In seventy years the Aetna has paid losses amounting to $81,000,000.

The company is now issuing perpetual policies, and is making a specialty of this plan of fire insurance.

Architect Notes.

H. E. Flower, architect, 1215 Filbert street, has on boards plans for a residence to be erected at Hillside, Pa. It will be of local stone, two and a half stories high, and contain electric work, hard-wood finish, hot-air heat, and up-to-date conveniences, etc.

Emil C. Trittin, architect, 410 Walnut street, has made plans for a house at Oak Lane for Mrs. Hummel, of that place, and they will be held for future orders.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, are making plans for a pair of houses to be erected at an early day in the suburbs for a private party. Details later.

Arnold H. Moses, architect, 419 Walnut street, is engaged on plans for alterations to a residence in this city, location and owner's name withheld for the present. This will include exterior and interior work as well, and all conveniences.

M. B. Silberstein, architect, 927 South Third street, is making plans for alterations and additions to H. Sussman's house, 935 South Fourth street. The front will be of brick and stone, slate and tin roofing, interior to have all conveniences.

A. W. Taylor, architect, Church street, Bridesburg, Phila., has been taking bids on a couple of houses to be erected on Bridge street in that place, face brick, galvanized cornice slate and tin roof, hot air, and best inside comforts and conveniences, etc.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has completed plans for a house to be erected at Seacane, Delaware county, Pa. The structure will be colonial; stone, slate roof, hard-wood finish, hot air heat, electric work, best plumbing and general conveniences. Estimates are being made.

S. R. Hoover, architect, Wilkesbarre, Pa., is making plans for a schoolhouse to be built at West Pittston, Pa., for the school board of that place. It will be of brick and stone, two and a half stories high, slate roof, cement and pine floors, and furnished with school fittings of improved patterns.

The plans by Emil Hartman, architect, 441 Chestnut street, are progressing for a brewery to be erected at Wilmington, Del., under the management of Adolph Segal, Drexel Building, and Mr. Broza, of 530 Walnut street. It will be erected during the Spring of 1898. Previously noted in this journal.

F. L. Hoover & Son, contractors, have been estimating on plans for alterations to a house for W. W. Frazier at Jenkintown. The specifications and plans by Cope and Stewardson, architects, call for electric work, cement floors, plate glass plastering, papering and decoration, and general inside work of the very best character.

Arthur S. Cochran, architect, Tenth and Walnut streets, southeast corner, is preparing plans for a gymnasium, to be erected at Swarthmore, Pa. It will be 50 feet x 120 feet, of stone and fancy brick, two stories high, slag roof, and will also be fitted with bowling alleys, swimming pool, steam heat, electric light, common glass, cement floor, ng, etc.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have on boards plans for an alteration and addition to the residence of Mr. F. L. Bailey, at Ardmore, Pa. The addition will be of stone and frame work, three stories high, and furnished on interior with all modern conveniences. Same architects have other work which will be noted as plans may develop.

H. C. Witmer, architect, 1432 South Penn Square, has made plans for twenty-six dwellings to be erected at Wayne street and Germantown avenue, by A. C. Knorr, builder, Bourse Building, who is receiving estimates on material and work. These are to be of face brick, stone trimmings, hot-air heat, electric bells, and general conveniences on interior.

Mantel Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth street, has finished plans for alterations and additions to the house of Mr. R. B. Haines, on West School Lane, Germantown. These call for masonry, carpenter work, stairbuilding, plastering, electric work and best system of plumbing, etc. Estimates are being made on the work in office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street.

Revised estimates are being made by Contractor Geo. C. Dietrich, 927 North Seventh street, for the addition to the factory of the Stewart Company at Thirteenth and Noble streets, from plans made by Godefroy and Boyer, 1405 Filbert street. It will be 50 feet x 175 feet, five stories high. Steam power and heat, electric work, slag or slate roof, elevator lift, pipe covering, iron skylights, and every convenience will be introduced.

Baker & Dallett, architects, 1604 Chestnut street, are preparing the preliminary sketches for an asylum for the insane of Chester county, Pa. A site has not as yet been definitely selected but will be at an early date. The details as to material, size, general wants and needs for the structure will be noted in a later issue of this journal. This work was noted in our last issue briefly. The structure will have a frontage of 250 feet, with three wings in centre, two stories high. These will contain offices and rooms for physicians, employees. Also kitchens, laundries, storage rooms, etc.

The practice of letting sub-contracts by the Treasury Department to any extent will hereafter be abandoned, and the entire construction of all public work let in one general contract, and the contractor held for completion. The excepted items will likely be in the matter of plumbing, elevator systems, electric work. Secretary Gage is of the opinion also that Congress should appropriate the amounts entire for the completion of buildings, rather than dividing it year by year as has been the practice heretofore. It is likely the principles involved in the above will be put into practice in the construction of the U. S. Mint, except as to the foundation, which has been given to Allen B. Rorke, of this city.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

William Steele & Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut street, will make alterations to a mill at Frankford avenue and Somerset street; also an addition, five stories high, which will be of brick and contain modern conveniences, including electric work and freight lift, etc.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

Miscellaneous.

At Newport News, Va., at a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees, the question was considered of the issuing of bonds to the amount of $50,000, the money to be used in the erection and enlargement of school buildings.

At Worcester, Mass., A. B. Wood will erect a handsome two-story frame dwelling, 40 x 56 feet, from plans prepared by H. D. Hale, of Boston, Mass. The estimated cost is $20,000. The contract has been let to J. D. Vandrine.

W. M. Hill will erect a two-story frame dwelling on Schaffner street to cost $7000 from plans prepared by E. T. Chapin. F. J. Goff is the contractor.

At Ellis Island, N. Y., the plans submitted by Boring & Tilton, of New York, for the Ellis Island Immigrant Station, in New York Harbor, have been accepted by Secretary Gage, of the Treasury Department. There will be one building in five divisions, with a capacity of four thousand daily immigrants. The estimated cost is $570,000. The buildings will be of stone and brick, and, as far as possible, fire proof.

At East Liverpool, Ohio, an important industrial plant will be established by Mr. William H. Bantfield, one of the principal stockholders in the Ironclad tin mill, and who has just bought twenty acres of ground between the Ohio river and the railroad at East Liverpool as a site for a large sheet iron mill. The plant will cost about $150,000 and will employ about four hundred hands. A tin mill may also be erected.

At Wheeling, West Virginia, plans have been prepared by Franzheim, Jersey & Paris for the hotel building to be erected at 1074 Market street for George Landmessen. It will be of buff brick, with foundation and trimmings of stone, fine interior finish, tile work, sanitary plumbing, handsome fixtures, electric light plant, elevator and all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $40,000. The structure will contain about fifty rooms.

At St. Louis, Mo., plans have been prepared by W. Albert Swasey, 912 Union Trust Building, for an apartment house to be erected for the Imperial Building Co. It will be of brick and stone composition roof, steam heat, fine interior finish, plain and ornamental glass, tile work, electric work, elevators and all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is $180,000.

—Gerhard Becker, 1017 Chestnut street, has prepared plans for a store and apartment building to cost $35,000. It will be of brick, stone and terra cotta, slate and composition roof, hot air heat, modern conveniences. A fine hospital will be erected on Sheridan avenue and Glasgow place. Those interested are Richard M. Seruggs, Samuel Cuppes and Samuel M. Kennard. It will be handsomely finished and fitted up with considerable work in marble, iron and glass. The estimated cost is about $1,500,000.—Theodore C. Link, Century Building, is making plans for an addition to the Sunday school of Lindell avenue M. E. church, to cost about $20,000. Rev. King is the pastor.

John Knowell will erect an addition, four stories high, to his factory at Paletborp and Jefferson streets. It will be of brick, stone and slow-burning constructives, fitted for the manufacture of furniture. Steam power, heat and electric light, with freight lift, etc.

Doyle and Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifteenth street, have been estimating on a church building at Mount Pleasant avenue, Mount Airy. The building is to be of local stone, 25 x 40 feet, and contain electric work, cement floor in basement; general church fittings will also be needed.

Several applications have been made to extend piers 16 and 17 South Wharves to the Port Warden's line. Also the estate of S. McGargoe, for filling in of 38 North Wharves. The Hillman Ship and Engine Building Co., to extend pier 65 North Wharves. All of which is designed for an early start.

A. A. Hirst, President of Board of Health, of this city, having bought about four acres of the old Howell Evans estate on Lancaster avenue, Haverford, near the college, will improve the same at an early day. Mr. Charles S. Crossman, of Haverford College, has also bought contiguous to the above property, and will in future make this place his home, as well as others engaged professionally in the institution.

It is understood to be the intention of the Faculty of the Pennsylvania Military Academy, at Chester, Pa., to raise funds for the purpose of erecting a large and handsome building on the grounds of that institution. When this is done selection will be made from designs which have been made by competitive architects. It will be of stone, three stories high, and contain steam heat, electric work, and it is likely a large gymnasium will be placed in basement.

On the night of the 15th inst. quite a series of fires occurred, with damage in each case. The leading one of these was at 1025 Market street, doing injury to the building on interior to a considerable extent, which will be repaired at once. The morocco factory of H. J. Matthews and H. J. Franks, 213 Willow street, was also badly damaged from same cause. Other minor conflagrations at 215 South Eighth street, 1840 South Fourth street, did small damage to the buildings.

An increase of land by twelve acres has been purchased at Woodland avenue and Fifty-third street, and added to Bartram's Garden, by the city, the cost being about $30,000. It is intended to make improvements upon the site in the way of walks, flower-beds and planting of new trees of a select kind. The ground acquired includes the old Eastwick property, and the house will be torn down, but all administration is to be cared for under specifications now in the Bureau of City Property and Parks, which estimates are being made for the work.

Improve Your Fighting Chance for '98

WHEN we consider the many good fellows who are sleeping their long sleep within their tombs, and who cannot get out, we who are on the outside have everything for which to be thankful, no matter how great business trials have been or how serious financial losses.

The man who is on the top of the earth has always a fighting chance for his white alley, and especially in this the country of opportunities.

The pessimist is always wrong, because he ignores the power of Nature's forces and the clever brains that are directing and utilizing them. The Building News in this Journal is a reflex of one of Nature's most potent agents, because it represents the courage and enterprise of earnest men, and man is a creation of Nature.

If this is the correct philosophy, senseless bemoaning over lost opportunity is time wasted.

Brace up, neighbor! Subscribe now for THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, and make your fighting chance equal at least to that of your competitors.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 29, 1897

THE PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE completes its twelfth volume with the present issue. It enters upon its thirteenth year with a large degree of confidence as to its future success, notwithstanding the superstitions always associated with the number thirteen. It will continue to perform its duty with the self same care which has characterized its past existence, and it will try to justly merit the support of everyone directly and indirectly associated with the building and real estate interests within its scope of usefulness.

There are few, if any, who can justly regret the exit of 1897. It has been a year of serious trials and confusion to business men, with few exceptions.

Its record of business disaster has been something fearful to contemplate, and while there may have been even more in former years, it yields little comfort to those who have suffered to tell them so.

The courage and patience of the Anglo-Saxon under adversity and threatening disaster expresses the highest type of manhood, and the Englishman, gritting his teeth upon the streets of London and exclaiming, "D— them, let them all come," when it appeared that his country was to be assailed from all sides, can find his prototype in every home throughout our land. There are as bright prospects ahead as we have ever enjoyed.

The manhood of the country never asserted itself more than now, and, while the process of retreating prosperity may be too slow to suit some people, we are getting there as rapidly as conditions will justify, and in a way that will insure permanency.

We wish our readers a Happy New Year, and are not mean enough to except even those who are our subscribers.

Qualities for even better work in the greater, while its experience will increase that discriminating judgment through experience only.

The Wonderful Nerve and Cheek of Our Comptroller of the Currency.

If the Comptroller of the Currency, whose name is Eckels, and who is a relic of Mr. Cleveland's last administration, is correctly quoted in the daily press of this city, his proper place is behind the doors of some first-class penal institution.

With an effrontery which only could have been engendered through an assurance of security as to his own personal safety against prosecution for malfeasance in office, he coolly admits having committed the great wrong of perpetuating a rotten national bank for two years, which it seems effected no other purpose than that of enabling certain wise men who were within its meshes to get out in order that a new crop of lambs might fall in.

If Mr. Eckels' interpretation of his duties is correct, viz., "My ideas of the duties of the Comptroller of the Currency is that he should save a bank from failure, if possible, rather than push it to the wall," then the whole national banking system should be revised, for Mr. Eckels has picked the bubble of security and safety which the people have been educated to believe is an integral part of the system itself.

The poor devil who, as a bank examiner, sought to perpetuate that den of financial roust and iniquity known as the Keystone National Bank, did no more than Mr. Eckels frankly admits having done in the case of the Chestnut Street and other national banks; but the poor devil aforesaid was sadly deficient in what is known as a pull, and he was dismissed, and none too soon.

Mr. Eckels is also reported as having said: "A Year ago the election was on and it would not have done to have had a bank failure at that time." This is certainly a strange justification for the non-performance of a sacred duty, besides which, it is a frank admission that our banking system can be made a potent factor for election purposes.

Mr. Eckels also frankly states that "at a meeting Tuesday it was broadly intimated by one of the bank presidents present that I had exceeded my authority in permitting matters to go along so far as they had. He said that there were public moneys deposited in this bank and wanted to know what I thought my duty was in the premises. Within the past two years that same bank president had come to me and told me that his bank was on the verge of failure. If I chose to press him he would have had to close its doors."

This is another humiliating confession—first, that public money is more sacred than that belonging to private depositors; second, that the Comptroller can be swerved from the full performance of his duty, as the public understand it, and that he has been so swerved on more than one occasion.

The solemn obligation imposed upon the Comptroller of the Currency, together with the proper and conscientious fulfillment of his official duties without fear or favor, is all there is in the National banking system in the sense of safety and security which commands it to the confidence and respect of the people.

If Mr. Eckels' disgraceful methods are to be perpetuated, then the system is a failure, for the supposed crucial test of solvency, purposely introduced for the safety of depositors, is a myth, a trap, a shameful delusion and a sham.

Mr. Eckels' official duties expire with the old year, his Easy street methods have disgraced both administrations under which he has served, and it remains to be seen how far his unwholesome and pernicious example will affect his successor, and how marked his example will influence the whole line of underlings.

Taking his statement, as published in the daily papers, it is a piece of brazen face impudence, as well as a frank acknowledgment of criminal evasion of a well-defined duty.

As the champion of bankrupt banks he has certainly been a decided success, and his kindly efforts to save and perpetuate these institutions, while they were consuming the wreck and ruin of innocent and credulous depositors, will ever remain a stigma, and his defense is a monstrous example of nerve and cheek, and that is all there is in it.

ON THE DAY of the destruction of Mr. Singler's theatre property on Chestnut street, the writer was the bearer of a message from a wealthy gentleman of this city as follows: "Tell Mr. Singler to draw on me at sight for $50,000, if he needs it?" Here was a practical, hard-headed business man who had no personal interest in Mr. Singler's affairs further than a warm admiration for his enterprise and indomitable energy, but who felt a man's earnest sympathy for one whose star had been temporarily eclipsed, sending a message, every word of which contained more solid humanity than all the poetry that was ever written.

Subsequent to the above and soon after the Cox failure, which cost Mr. Singler nearly $400,000, a wealthy railroad man who was noted for his plain, blunt ways approached him, and without asking a single question, said: "Bill, they tell me you are in hard luck. Here's four hundred thousand in good securities; when you get through with them send them back to me."

These two episodes in a human life would at first thought appear to be improbable, were there not substantial proof to the contrary; and were it not also for the present offer by earnest business friends of sums even greater than the above now in Mr. Singler's hour of serious trouble.

It is to be hoped that every effort now being made to reimburse depositors, as well as to place Mr. Singler upon a solid business basis, will be successful.

He is an old man now, but his busy life and earnest effort has had a telling effect upon the city's business, even outside of his journalistic career; and in that his strong personality has been in evidence a thousand times, when most needed in the cause of the city in which he has risked his all.

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells, and now I am prepared to answer yes, I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the coral reefs, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will mail a dozen or more different kinds, no two alike, to any one who sends a stamp for postage. Also send you a lovely piece of white branch coral.

There is something strikingly original about "Old Glory," whether flying aloft from some ship's topmast or at the head of a fire insurance company's calendar as a bit of color and artistic decoration.

The artist in this case has done credit to his work as well as the company that employed him, for the colors of the American Flag never shone brighter and its pert and independent air was never better delineated than now at the head of the calendars of the American Fire Insurance Company for 1898, and Mr. Thomas H. Montgomery, its president, as a committee on calendars, is a decided success.

The Mechanics Insurance Company.

One of the most popular calendars issued in this city is that of the above company. For solid usefulness, as well as cleanness and beauty of typography, it has no superior. Some years ago a plain, unostentatious style was adopted, which commended itself for office use, and the company has rigidly adhered to it without the slightest departure.

The calendar typifies the solidity of the company and its careful management. The company has a host of friends in insurance and business circles, as well as a distinctively strong popularity among the owners of real estate.

Everybody wants a calendar of the Mechanics Insurance Company, and the early birds capture the belated worms in every instance. Mr. Simon J. McLean is the president of this company and Mr. John A. Snyder secretary.

The Fire Association of Philadelphia.

This Company never permits itself to be outdone by rival insurance companies, either in the beauty of its calendar or the intrinsic value of its shares.

A field of azure blue, on which an imprint in gold figures states that its assets are worth $8,000,000, while the losses it has paid during its corporate existence amounts to $26,000,000, is the most specific feature in its calendar business.

Established in 1917, or just eighty years ago, its age and experience places it among the first fire insurance companies to be established in this country.

As age adds both bouquet and strength to wine, it is not at all surprising that the fragrance permeates every village and hamlet in the country, where safe fire insurance is desired.

Mr. E. C. Irwin is the President, and Mr. T. H. Conderman, vice-president.

Architect Notes.

The Lutheran Publication Society, on Arch street above Twelfth, have taken title to the L. A. Holman building, and intend in the near future to rebuild the present structure. The details for the latter decision are as yet incomplete, but when consummated will be noted in this journal.

At Oil City, Venango county, J. P. Brenot, architect, has prepared plans for a handsome summer residence to be erected for Mr. P. C. Boyle. The estimated cost is about $5000. Also two cottages for Messrs. Trax and Parker, to cost about $700 each. Bids are being received on the above.

Bungart and Jackson, architects, 1345 Arch street, are making plans for alterations and additions to the abattoir, on Tatnall street, Wilmington, Del. It is to be of brick, two stories high, 56 x 80 feet, and will have steam, electric work, concrete work, slag roof and all general improvements.

David Knickerbocker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Greenleaf and Market streets is making plans for a residence to be erected at Germantown. It will be 27 x 60 feet, three stories high, slate roof, steam heat, electric work, best plumbing, hard wood finish and all modern conveniences, etc.

Estimates are being made on a church building for the First United Brethren, at Altoona, Pa., and the architect, C. H. Robinson, of that place, has the entire matter in charge. It will be of stone and brick, two stories high, and cost $30,000. This work was noted previously in these columns.

J. Cather Newsom, architect, 1001 Chestnut street, is engaged on plans for an operation to be built in the vicinity of Fifty-eighth and Woodland avenues. All to be of fancy buff brick, stone trimmings, galvanized cornice work, and general conveniences on the interior. Mr. Newsom has other plans on drafts which will be noted as they develop.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has made plans for a two story stable 33 feet x 60 feet to be erected at Eighteenth and Brandywine streets, for George Allen. Also drawings for a three-story paint factory, 32 feet x 78 feet, to be built at Frankford avenue and Unity street, Frankford, for E. F. Woodward. Other work in same office will be noted as it may develop.

L. Vischer Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans for a house for Mr. H. McMurtrie, at Germantown, and placed there on boards of contractors for estimate. It will be three stories high, local stone, cement cellar, steam heat, electric work, tiling work, leaded glass, and plain windows, best system of plumbing, and all modern comforts. Wm. Dougherty, 1694 Sansom street, is figuring on the general contract.

A. C. Wagner, architect, 514 Walnut street, has made plans for an addition to the brewery of John Hoheradel, also for a two story beer storage house for the Anheuser-Busch Brewers' Association, at Ninth and Percy streets. Same architect has made drawings for a large brewery for Messrs. Wideman & Company, at Bethlehem, Pa. This structure will be 43 x 114 feet and four stories high, and entirely of fire-proof construction. Work to start at once.

Francis A. Gugert, architect, Wayne, Delaware county, Pa., has made plans for the rebuilding of the house of Mrs. Gallagher, at St. Davids, which was destroyed by fire. Also plans for alterations to the post-office building of J. M. Fronsfield, at Wayne, Pa. Contract will be let shortly. Same architect has awarded Millard N. Croll, of Radnor, a contract to build a Swiss chalet on J. E. Gillingham's farm, near Gulf Mills. Mr. Gugert is engaged on other plans, which will be noted in the near future.

Architect Henry Ives Cobb for the new Capitol Building announces that all plans are now about complete for the work and that estimates will soon be in order. It is understood a bond for $100,000 will be filed by the successful bidder, to be completed by November 1st, 1898. The structure will be of Pennsylvania granite, if it can be had, and if not other stone may be used. The dome will be 287 feet high, 30 feet in diameter, the interior will be very ornamental in stone work, electric appliances, best system of plumbing and ventilation, steam heat, elevators and freight lift. All general conveniences and comforts will be introduced.

Hales and Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, are about getting the drawings for the new M. E. Home ready for estimate. The building will be located at Belmont, Edgely and Elm avenues. It will be of stone, brick and iron construction, three stories high, slate roof and have every modern convenience and comfort, including steam heat, electric work, best of plumbing and drainage systems, upholstery, carpeting and general furnishings for the purpose. Estimates will be asked at an early day. Same architects have completed the plans noted before in this journal for a warehouse for the Abram S. Cox Stove Company at American and Dauphin streets. It will be 90 x 42 feet, two stories high.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, as noted in this journal of December 15th, has now completed all plans and specifications for the addition to the great stores of Strawbridge and Clothier, at Eighth and Market streets, and are ready for estimates. The structure will be 75 feet x 200 feet, five stories high, and in conformity with the present building as to material, etc. Interior will contain electric work, steam heat, elevators and lifts. Grille iron and brass work, best plumbing and pipe covering, plate and plate glass for large and small windows, etc. Work to start early in the coming year, 1898.

Robeson Lea Perot, architect, 619 Philadelphia Bourse, has plans on the boards for several buildings which it is expected will be erected in the Spring. Among these are an apartment house near Philadelphia. This will be three stories high, with a basement in which will be extensive kitchens, bowling alley and shuffle boards, billiard and pool rooms, lavatories, laundry, etc. The building will be about 15 x 140, will be arranged in suites with bath, gas, plumbing, steam heating, electric and gas lighting, hardwood, etc., throughout. Owner's name withheld for the present. Details will be given as work progresses. Also very extensive alterations to church in this city. Same architect has plans on boards for a rectory building for Protestant Episcopal Church in the suburbs, and for some houses in Germantown which will be noted later.

Schermerhorn & Rheinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have prepared plans and specifications for a one-and-a-half-story colonial brick stable to be erected at Bryn Mawr, Pa., for Mr. James Florey, of that place. It will measure 48 feet x 30 feet, and contain carriage house 27 feet x 18 feet, stable portion with three single and two box stalls. There will be a small office attached to stable, measuring 10 feet x 12 feet. The building will contain all the modern improvements and conveniences, and be finished in yellow pine, natural finish. The same architects are engaged on plans and specifications for an addition to a building at Cape May, N. J., consisting of third story, attic and bays, the property of Ware & Eldredge, of that place, to be constructed of frame and have shingle roof. The addition will measure 34 feet x 20 feet, and be one and a half stories high.

In all the building operations contemplated for the year 1898, none will perhaps assume the direct importance of that which may be attached to the erection of a magnificent country home for Mr. Peter A. B. Widener, of this city. This palatial mansion will be constructed with an eye single to beauty and durability, and neither expense nor labor will be spared so as to render it all that the most cultured taste could desire, and where general ease and comfort will speak for themselves. The general plans in detail will fully embody Mr. Widener's personal desires for an ideal home, he having, in his travels over the continent of Europe, gathered considerable information upon the subject of what constitutes, not only the beautiful, but the realistic in the construction of such an edifice. The structure will be colonial in design, two stories high and erected entirely of Indiana limestone, including the balustrade surrounding top of cornice and that which encloses the terrace at base. The central motive on the main front will be a portico supported by eight Ionic columns, thirty-one feet high and three feet in diameter, and a flight of ten steps, seventy-six feet wide, extending from the pathway to terrace. The main entrance will be through a classic doorway, leading through a vestibule to the main hall, thirty-six feet square, and the full height of the building. From this hall leads a marble staircase, with balustrade of bronze metal, the floors of the
